City Hospital Expansion Slated

HOW IT'LL LOOK. This is the architect's sketch of a proposed addition to the west wing of City Hospital to provide space for enlargement of the pediatrics and dietary departments, a $250,000 project. This view, looking east, shows part of the west wing with E. 5th St. at the right, and the public parking area in the foreground.

For Pediatrics, Dietary

Addition's Cost Set At $250,000

Construction of an addition to the west wing of City Hospital to provide space for enlargement of the pediatrics and dietary departments is planned by the Board of Trustees, it was disclosed Tuesday by Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent.

J. Nessly Porter of East Liverpool is architect for the $250,000 project, and the board has approved the preliminary designs, the superintendent said in addressing the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel.

THE PROPOSED addition will provide space for enlargement and modernization of the pediatrics and dietary departments, with the downstairs to contain a new dining room cafeteria for employees and staff members.

Porter said it is expected that bids will be asked in September for construction of the steel frame-brick veneer addition, 48-x-84 feet.

The new structure will double the capacity of the pediatrics ward, Miss Robinson told the club.

The addition will provide space for 36 bed units and isolation quarters, she added.

AIR - CONDITIONING will also be a feature of the structure, to be erected at the end of the west wing near the hospital parking lot.

The present pediatrics ward, designed to accommodate only 16 patients, is not air - conditioned and is frequently overcrowded, Miss Robinson said.

She revealed that the board has applied for a $125,000 grant from the Public Works Administration to finance half the cost.

If the federal grant is awarded, the remaining cost will come from the current building fund, she said.

The board applied earlier for a federal grant of $213,000 under the Hill - Burton Act to help finance construction of the Harker - Metch nurses' home and training school.

WORK IS continuing on construction of the nurses' residence and educational unit, a $641,000 project, with footers already being poured. Robert F. Beatty is architect of the $641,000 project.

Miss Robinson, superintendent since 1930, spoke on "Our Hospital — A Community Partnership."

She discussed the significance of City Hospital granted accreditation for three years by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals in Chicago. The commission is comprised of four national medical and hospital organizations which grant the certificate.

They are the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

Miss Robinson pointed out accreditation assures a safe and sound physical plant, not only safe with maximum precautions taken against fire and explosion, but also safeguards in the laboratories. She emphasized the safety rules practiced.

CITING some hospital statistics, Miss Robinson said the number of patients admitted and the length of their stay has shown an increase of 5 per cent over last year, while use of laboratories, X-ray equipment and diagnostic facilities rose 8 to 10 per cent.

"More use of the diagnostic equipment reflects on good equipment purchased for the laboratories last year, and more testing and evaluating by the physicians," she said.

The number of births in 1963 has shown a decline from last year and is not expected to rise

Vote Stymies Pennsylvania School Option

Senate Rejects Bid To Permit Hauling Of Parochial Pupils

HARRISBURG — Action on a proposal to permit local school districts to decide on whether to provide bus transportation for Catholic school students was stymied by the Pennsylvania Senate Tuesday.

In a vote of 26-23, the senate refused to concur on a House amendment to Senate legislation already passed.

The move sends the measure back to the House for re-amendment or referral to a committee, but in effect means the bill is dead for the present session for all practical purposes.

However, the issue remains alive, for the House is slated to vote on legislation which will provide for a constitutional revision referendum in 1965.

The referendum would be on whether or not the state Constitution should be amended to specifically authorize public school bus rides for parochial pupils.

Should the change be permitted, then the General Assembly would decide whether to enact such legislation.

In other action, the Senate approved Gov. William Scranton's civil service legislation, 28-18, sending it to the governor for his signature.

The Scranton bill is designed to add 17,000-plus to the state's civil service rolls, to bring the total covered to approximately 43,000. This is about half of the state's total employment.

However, all state employees now enjoying "executive board" civil service will go on probation

Notices Given 10 Named On Tax Violation

Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor completed work Tuesday afternoon on serving summonses on 10 persons accused of violations of the city income tax ordinance, directing them to appear next Tuesday at 9 a. m. before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Eight of the defendants face two charges each — failure to file a final return on 1962 income and failure to file an estimate of 1963 earnings. They are: Floyd Cramer, 1027 Florence St.; Mabel Thomas, 339 E. 8th St.; Roosevelt Suggs, 262 Ridgeway Ave.; George C. Adams, 170 Vernia St.; John W. Jackson, 820 Pennsylvania Ave.; Frank Taylor, 719 Price St.; John Fitch, 518 Mulberry St.; and Richard D. Darrah of Park Blvd.

The charge against Mrs. Thomas later was dismissed after the court was advised that she had filed returns and paid the amount due.

The other two defendants each face one charge.

James Goss, 1247 Erie St., is accused of failure to file a declaration of estimated income for 1963. Donald R. Parr of Williams Ave., Fisher Park, is charged with failure to file a final return on his 1962 income.

U.S. Studies Korea For Signs Of New Communist Moves

Bipartisan Trip Set

Rusk Delegation Leaves Friday To Sign Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and a bipartisan delegation including five senators will leave for Moscow Friday night to attend the formal signing of the nuclear test ban treaty.

The White House announced the plan today and named the senatorial delegates as Democrats J.W. Fulbright of Arkansas, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island; and Republicans Everett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and George Aiken of Vermont.

The list notably omitted Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader from Illinois and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Both of these Republican leaders have indicated they did not want to attend the Moscow signing and have left it open as to how they might vote on the atomic test ban treaty when it comes before the Senate for ratification.

A White House source told newsmen that neither Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, nor Dirksen had been invited because of a feeling that their presence was needed here in view of the Senate work load.

The source said he did not know whether President Kennedy had talked to Dirksen on the matter. He declined to discuss what other senators might have been considered for the trip and their response.

However, it appeared plain from other administration informants that Republican representation fell somewhat short of the level the administration had hoped for. Kennedy would like to have Senate ratification soon and by as wide a margin as possible. A two-thirds Senate majority is needed.

The formal ceremony for signing the treaty, initiated last Thursday in Moscow by U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman, is expected to take place Monday.

Secretary General U Thant said at United Nations headquarters Tuesday night that he would be on hand in Moscow Monday for the event.

Raids May Be Pattern Of Offenses

No Alerts Planned, But Military Keeps Close Line Watch

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military chiefs watched today for signs indicating whether the outbreak of shooting incidents in Korea might foreshadow major action by the Communists.

So far, the disposition in the Pentagon is to regard the incidents this week as isolated.

Any further ambushes by North Korea's Red marauders or encounters with them could raise the level of concern, sources said, because they might point to development of an offensive pattern.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff were being kept abreast of the situation along the demilitarized zone, but for the present were leaving the reins in the hands of U.S. commanders in Korea.

There has been no special alert of American forces outside Korea, authorities said.

In South Korea, patrols have been strengthened and vigilance increased along the 150-mile no-man's-land separating Communist and non-Communist halves of the country.

Three U.S. soldiers and a South Korean policeman have been killed this week battling raiders near the demilitarized zone. Four North Korean Communist infiltrators died violently Tuesday six miles south of the armistice line. A U.N. spokesman said two of the infiltrators committed suicide when surrounded.

American diplomatic officials studied the flare-up in Korea against the background of the Chinese Communist cleavage with the Soviet Union and Red China's espousal of a hard line against the West.

The North Koreans have aligned

Tests Prove Raiders Shot 3 Americans

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Communists guns which killed two U.S. soldiers and wounded a third Monday just south of the demilitarized zone were the same weapons carried by North Korean soldiers killed Tuesday, a U.N. command spokesman announced.

"Ballistic tests have proven conclusively that submachine guns taken from two North Koreans killed Tuesday afternoon are the same weapons used in the Monday morning ambush attack," Col. George Creel said.

Creel explained that the "markings on the bullets taken from the dead (American) cavalymen compare with the markings on bullets fired from the captured submachine guns."

U.S. soldiers "exchanged fire with the enemy" early today for the third consecutive day just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Korea, Brig. Gen. Charles Pershing Brown announced.

Brown, acting commander of the 1st Cavalry Division, said:

"No one was wounded or killed on our side and there were no definite results from the contact." Brown's statement gave credence to the belief that the Communists have increased their infil-

Some County Dairy Income Hit By Strike

Milk Diverted For Reduced Price With Pittsburgh Use Cut

A number of dairies on the western side of Columbiana County face a sharp cut in income through milk diversion as a result of the Greater Pittsburgh strike, according to Carey A. Houlette of Columbiana.

Houlette, dairy farmer and director of the Dairymen's Co-operative Sales Association of Pittsburgh, said many face financial disaster if the strike is prolonged.

Dairy farmers in Western Columbiana County, Carroll County and part of Stark County ordinarily ship to an East Rochester plant but have been required to divert their supply at a loss of about $2 per hundredweight.

Most of the milk produced in the East Liverpool area and on the eastern side of Columbiana County is consumed locally or shipped to Youngstown, Houlette said.

Houlette estimated 40 to 50 dairy farms in the three-county area are affected by the strike.

John L. Walker of Pittsburgh, DSCA spokesman, said about 700 Eastern Ohio suppliers face a loss of about $14 a day — seven days a week.

The milk they normally ship will be turned into powdered milk and they will receive half the usual price.

The walkout Monday by members of Teamsters Local 205 closed 59 dairies in Pennsylvania and affected some 2 million consumers.

It cut the daily flow of 325,000 pounds of milk into Greater Pittsburgh from Ohio producers in Ashtabula, Trumbull, Columbiana, Carroll, Belmont, Monroe

Slate Entered In Waterford

Mayor Heads Ticket Of 6 For Election

A six-man slate headed by incumbent Mayor William E. Ferguson entered today from New Waterford to seek village offices in nonpartisan balloting at the Nov. 5 general election.

Eleven candidates in all entered overnight with the County Election Board, boosting to 63 the number entered for the fall balloting in small villages, school districts and townships.

The new candidates also include Frank Gray of Lisbon St. Ext., seeking a second term as Liverpool Township trustee.

Others on the New Waterford slate and the offices they seek are:

Edward R. Bretz, clerk-treasurer; Howard Webber and Daniel J. Percy, Council, and Robert Esterly and Eugene H. Walton, Board of Public Affairs.

Other new candidates are: Howard Goddard, for Board of Public Affairs at Salineville; Ray Laughlin, for Wayne Township clerk; Clifford Shaw, for Center Township trustee, and L. H. Baker, for Elkrun Township clerk.

Gray's term as Liverpool Township trustee will close at the

Defendant Drugs Self

Jury Studies Vice Trial Verdict; Ward In Coma

LONDON (AP)—A jury in the Old Bailey court retired today to consider its verdict on lurid vice charges against Dr. Stephen Ward — while the defendant lay unconscious in a hospital from an overdose of drugs.

Court officials said that Justice Sir Archie Marshall would not sentence Ward, if convicted, until he is well enough to be present.

Ward still was in a coma five hours after admission to the hospital. Doctors and nurses were administering oxygen in an effort to bring him around.

Christine Keeler, alleged by the prosecution to be the star attraction in a circus of prostitutes run by Ward, was stunned.

Hospital authorities indicated that Ward was expected to recover.

The presiding judge completed his summing up of the evidence and his instructions to the jury after cancelling Ward's bail of $1,000 pounds ($8,400) and instructing the police to "take the normal steps to ensure greater security" of Ward.

The five charges against Ward are all misdemeanors although

Ohio Valley Gas Sets Rate Cut For Sept. 1

East Liverpool residents will pay one-quarter cent a thousand cubic feet less than they are now paying for natural gas starting Sept. 1, it was announced today by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

One-quarter cent decreases will also apply, under provisions of their fuel cost clauses, to these other area communities served by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.: Bellaire, Bridgeport, Brookside, Clarion, Hopedale, Martins Ferry and Shadyside, according to Harold Sneddon, East Liverpool manager.

Weirton Steel, Union Sign In New Contract

10,000 Covered In Agreement With Independent Group

WEIRTON — A new labor agreement providing for improved insurance and hospitalization benefits and an expanded vacation plan has been signed by the Independent Steelworkers Union and Weirton Steel Co.

The agreement extends for nearly two years the labor peace that has prevailed in Weirton for more than 30 years.

Over 10,000 production and maintenance employees of the Weirton and Steubenville plants of Weirton Steel are covered in the agreement.

The basic labor agreement will remain in effect until terminated by either party upon 120 days advance notice, but in no case can the agreement be terminated before May 1, 1965.

It contains an expanded vacation plan for 50 per cent of the employees with greatest seniority, which will entitle them to a special 13-week vacation (including regular vacation) once every five years. Other covered employees will get added single weeks of vacation as first included in the 1962 agreement. The new vacation plan becomes effective Thursday.

Improved insurance benefits include an increase of hospitalization payments from the present 120 days to 365 days a year. Weekly sickness and accident payments are increased by $10. These benefits also become effective tomorrow.

The development and application of an updated uniform manual for classification of jobs was agreed upon. Also a limitation on hiring of outside contractors was among the new provisions.

Cars Hit In East End; 2 Men Escape Injury

Chester and East Liverpool motorists escaped injury when their cars collided in an East End underpass Tuesday at 2:42 p. m., police reported.

The mishap involved an east-bound 1959 sedan operated by Louis M. Tychonievich, 814 River-view St., and a westbound auto—also a 1959 sedan — driven by Elmer M. Robinson, 60, of 508 Knowles Ln., Chester, police said.

Both drivers said their cars slid in the underpass at State St. and River Rd. when they applied the brakes. The mishap damaged the left front fender and bumper of the Tychonievich car and the grill and hood of the Chester man's auto.

New Inflation?

Most Businessmen Doubt Prospect

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New government statistics invite fears that inflation may be straining at the leash again.

Businessmen seem agreed that it probably won't get loose. But they concede there has been more price raising in recent months than there has been in a long time.

The government cost of living index for June took its biggest spurt in months, reaching a record high of 106.6 per cent.

This specific figure, strongly influenced by an unusual increase in sugar prices, can't be taken too seriously by itself. But businessmen are studying the index for what it reveals about the overall pattern.

For years that pattern has been deflationary, many businessmen say. There has been a buyers' market, with stiff price competition, since about 1958.

During this period, wholesale price indices slipped downward and retail averages held about steady. The cost-of-living index inched upward, but this was almost exclusively because of higher charges for services (haircuts up 12 per cent, hospital care up 32 per cent, etc.), shelter and taxes. Food prices have been almost steady for several years.

Real estate prices kept rising longer, partly because of property taxes, but by last year, they too had about flattened out.

U.S. Steel tried unsuccessfully to boost its prices bringing the historic clash with President Kennedy in the spring of 1962.

This spring, the steel industry tried again but on a smaller scale. This time it worked.

Shortly afterward, aluminum producers gingerly raised some prices. Some brass and copper makers followed suit. Then came more aluminum boosts.

At about the same time, sugar prices zoomed from near-record depths to near-record heights.

Some see a new inflationary climate emerging from these developments. Many economists say this is illusory, however.

"It's certainly a lot easier to raise prices now than it was," said one, "but this is not any trend. At best, it's a very moderate drift."

The sugar and cocoa rises, these economists say, are

State Plans Crackdown

Judge Tobin Gets Help Against Minors Beer Sale

Judge Louis Tobin may find less frustration now that Donald D. Cook, director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, has taken a new step in a campaign at eliminating permit holders who sell alcoholic beverages to juveniles.

Columbiana County's juvenile judge long has been a foe of taverns that dispense beverages to minors and has complained in the past that when the department was advised of violations "nothing ever happened."

The East Liverpool jurist, due back week after next from a vacation, is expected to be pleased by Cook's special appeal to Juvenile Court judges in all of the state's 88 counties to furnish the names of those permit holders who have become involved in liquor sales to juveniles.

The department last week ordered a two - week suspension of a Wellsville tavern's permit for sale to minors. The case was prosecuted in Judge Tobin's court.

Cook said in his letter from Columbus Tuesday such sales are increasing steadily and that "we hope the judges will co-operate with the department in a statewide crackdown on this particular violation."

Cook's new action came after

Let's Keep The Ball Rolling

Efforts to clean up the river front here tie in well with a general re-awakening along the mighty Ohio.

Community after community is becoming more and more aware of the valuable asset that the river represents.

For a river boom on a big scale, let's look at a few facts from Cincinnati, a long way down stream. This is the way the Cincinnati Enquirer put it in an article last Sunday: "Spurred on by the advancing water level, people and agencies have pumped more than $20 million into boats, docks and other pleasure-seeking and pleasure-giving projects."

"Fetters started rising four years ago when the federal government announced plans to create a 95-mile-long lake along the Ohio River at Greater Cincinnati. The money started to flow then, but has cascaded during the last two years as more and more people have turned their eyes toward the Ohio for pleasure and profits."

"More money, more boats, more boaters, more ramps, more docks, more pleasure facilities, more water — all can be found in, on and near the Ohio River this year . . ."

Naturally, we haven't the money at our disposal to keep pace with a metropolitan area the size of Cincinnati. But we can do our share on a proportionate scale to continue to make the river more attractive and to reap the benefits that it has to offer.

The ball already has started rolling here. It's up to all of us to keep it rolling in the right direction.

A Scenic Tour

The other day a scenic tour was conducted for residents of Jefferson County, with 23 farms included in the mapped itinerary.

There were picnic baskets and all as the county made the most of an opportunity to show off its scenery, history and conservation practices.

The idea is an excellent one and it might be wise for Columbiana County to follow suit next year. The East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce has sponsored urban-rural days in the past—and they have been most successful in getting the "city" and "farm" folk together in a spirit of friendliness.

But a broader get-together on the same scale or even bigger than that of Jefferson County's could prove even more beneficial. Few counties have more beautiful scenery and more historic spots than has Columbiana.

Let's Minimize Job Competition

It's about time the U.S. pursued a course of greater self-interest in its immigration policies.

President Kennedy has proposed a plan that would gradually scrap the current country-by-country quota system and establish a priority plan giving preference to those with needed skills and relatives already living here.

The present quota system permits up to 156,700 immigrants to enter the country each year. The number allowed entry from any given country is based upon the proportion of the 1920 U.S. population that traced its origin to that country.

Since the quotas thus are heavily weighted in favor of immigration from northern Europe, from which there has been no heavy influx of immigrants, some 60,000 quota numbers go unclaimed each year while thousands living elsewhere are trying without success to enter the U.S.

In other words, it is quite likely under the President's plan that immigration would more nearly approach the maximum permitted under law than is now the case with the country-by-country quota system.

We do not oppose the proposed change in emphasis from national origin to the self-interest of needed skills, but we do not see the logic of parceling out "wasted" quota numbers on a broader base simply to achieve immigration figures that would soar to the legal maximum.

America is in the grip of a chronic unemployment problem as disturbing as it is costly.

It would seem, then, that Congress should be looking for ways of relaxing competition for job opportunities by tightening, rather than relaxing, controls on immigration.

It is a time for enlightened self-interest.

Step By Step

It's with interest that most of us in the district watch the new Oak Glen High School at Pughtown get ready — step by step — for the opening of the fall term.

Consolidation of the upper grades of Chester, Newell and New Cumberland high schools is no easy task and the administration of Oak Glen can rest assured that the best wishes of all its neighbors go with it as it wrestles with the "growing pains" of a new venture in education.

Some confusion may result at first, but it doesn't take an intellectual genius to realize at this early stage that the Oak Glen High School will rank with the best in the district both academically and athletically in the not too distant future.

All Is Quiet In The Congo

The flow of literature from persons and organizations who had made Moise Tshombe and the independence of Katanga Province their main reliance for triumph against Communism has dwindled to nothing.

Something changed the picture in the Congo more than it had been changed by years of bloodshed and double dealing among the Congolese, or by the expensive efforts of the United Nations to pacify and unify the fledgling republic. Suddenly pacification and unification were in sight. Tshombe was going to Paris for medical treatment and the Congo was out of the news.

The "something" apparently was the huge mining company called Union Miniere du Haut-Katanga, whose tax revenues had been the core of the dispute over Katanga secession. The Congo Republic could not survive without the revenue, and in the struggle to get it the issue was transformed into a struggle between communists and capitalists.

But it was not clear that the capitalists in Union Miniere thought of it this way when they let it be known they were withdrawing support from Tshombe, that the rebellion was over.

A report on the company's plans for large-scale expansion of its activities in its Katanga properties, released in this country through its affiliate, Belgo-American Development Corp., says everything now is secure.

The Congo government in Leopoldville also reports that all is peaceful and harmonious.

The showdown between communism and capitalism that had been so widely advertised doesn't seem to have taken place, unless those who presented it in that light now declare that Union Miniere does not know what it's doing when it spends millions on expansion of its operations, despite the absence of Moise Tshombe and the collapse of the Katanga secession movement.

Next, Karate!

When I am not fretting about dirt backwash and unruly hair, I swallow hard about judo.

The big judo pitch is to women. They are being sold on judo for self-defense.

It has replaced the hat pin and the long walk home as a girl's last resort. Hat pins aren't worn any more, and today's distances are too stretched out to make defensive walking feasible.

Instead, the modern girl maneuvers her assailant into Position III (see illustration) grasps him at the prescribed place, gives a grunt and heaves him belly-up into the weeds.

Or she grabs him by the wrist of his marauding paw, applies leverage and makes him writhe to his knees to keep her from breaking off an arm. Please, Delilah . . .

This cooling off by brute force makes me swallow hard.

The female already was the deadlier of the species without this addition to her arsenal. What it means is, the boys will have to take up judo to defend themselves against the girls and before long three falls out of five will supplant dating as the routine of heing and she-ing.

This will be no improvement over circular pursuit. Nothing will have been added to the classical equation of pursuit and evasion, except violence.

And violence will be self-defeating. It will take the fun out of circular pursuit, which is what happens when two persons of the opposite sex go after each other.

It is not easy to know who is pursuing whom. It's of no consequence, because it's turn and turn about, as first one, then the other wriggles away and calls back over a hunched shoulder, "Chase me, kid, I'm a panther."

Like puppies playing, it's harmless. There-is more action than a can of worms—and that's all it amounts to. But add judo, and it won't be funny. Someone will get hurt.

A maiden with a reputation for knowing all the holds and how to break them might as well be hare-lipped for all the chance she would have to come to grips with an adversary.

It would be a switch on the standard problem of the octopodous male who surrounds his prey with what seem like eight arms at a grapple.

It would be the female who must be kept out of reach, lest she apply some unbreakable hold perfected through the centuries to wrench bones from their sockets and make heroes whimper.

This is not sour grapes.

There was this girl who had been billed as a farmer's daughter. She was a blind date, sort of—blind in one eye. Nothing had been said about a secret weapon. Then it happened.

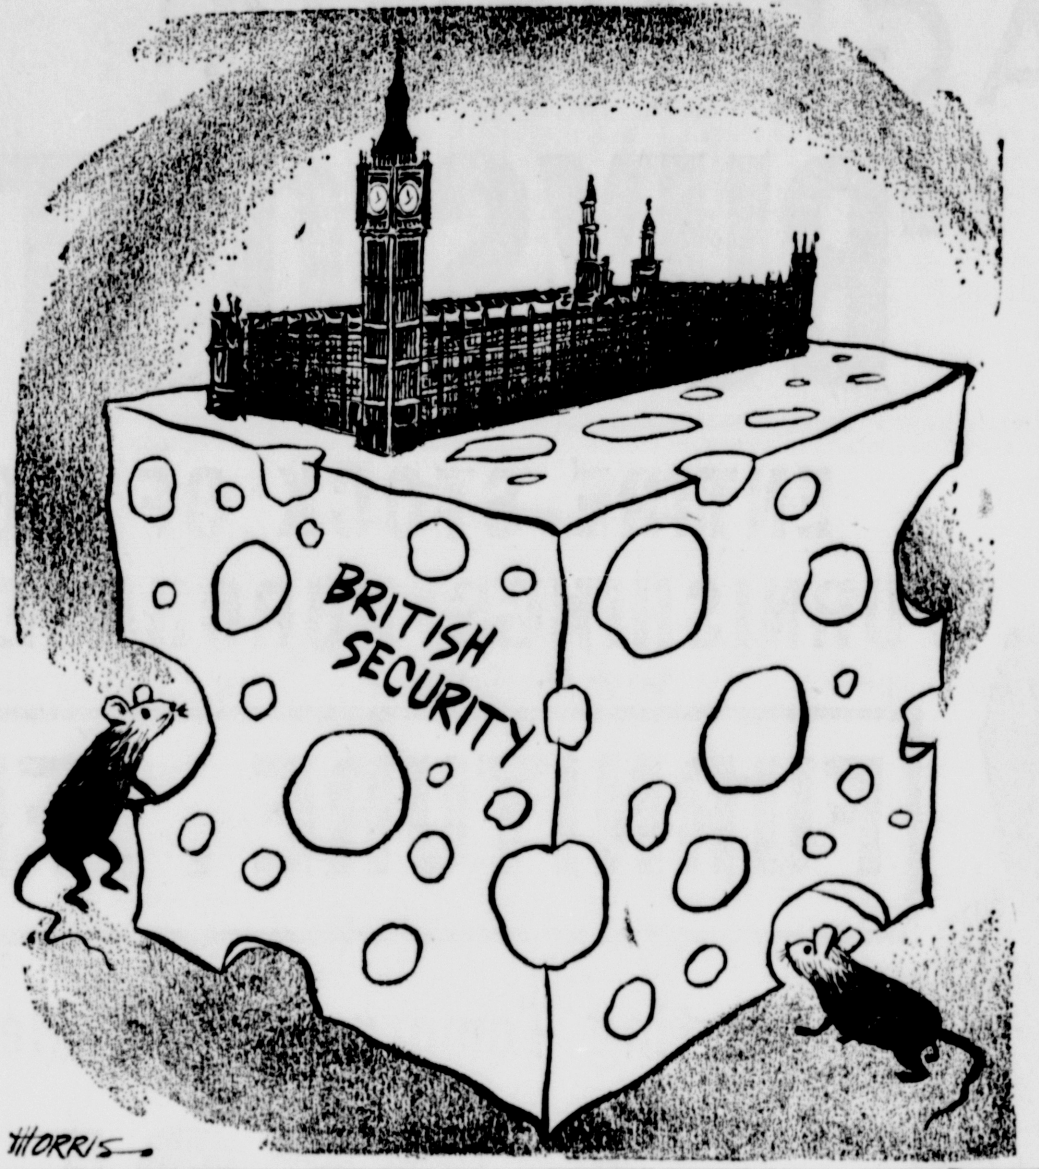

Karate! It's the technique of stunning with a blow from the side of the hand. They demonstrate it on TV by having a karate expert smash wood into kindling with a quick down-thrust of a hardened hand.

That farmer's daughter had developed the knack by stunning cattle for slaughtering. Keene-runnch! This is what judo will lead to if it catches on.

The greatest linguist in history is a distribution usually conceded to Cardinal Giuseppe Casper Mezzofanti, who became keeper of the Vatican Library in 1833. According to records, he was familiar with more than 50 languages.

Forty-two of the 55 highest mountain peaks in the United States are situated in the state of Colorado.

Or Does It Just Seem Like That?

Reds Cover The Waterfront

By Victor Riesel

CALLAO, PERU

Slowly we lose on many fronts — and one of these is this little known Peruvian waterfront. Near me are anchored hundreds of boats, part of one of the world's greatest fishing fleets. Right behind me is the headquarters of the hate - America force the two-story, yellow and pink Victor Riesel is the headquarter of the pro-Castro, pro-Soviet Sindicato de Estibadores. This is the longshoremen's union.

Its high neon rooftop sign is a signal of power to all the surrounding "barriadas" (grim slums) whose walls are painted with the most modern of propaganda decors — slogans reading "Viva Cuba" and "Fuero Hanky" — out with the Yankees.

LONGSHOREMEN, controlled by pro-Communists for 17 years, have devised a strategem of power unknown anywhere in the world. With this technique as a base they can cripple this land and paralyze shipments of vital foods and metals during any crisis.

Here is how it operates: The Sindicato de Estibadores has 1,000 members. That's a permanent total — no more, no less. Only they can claim dockwallowing jobs. In fact, they "own" the jobs. Each longshoreman has a "chapa." This is a work tag. Only the man entitled to the work tag can collect pay from the stevedoring firm.

But the 1,000 longshoremen need not actually do the work. Each one can — and does — hire a substitute, called a "punto." This punto does not have to work either. He in turn can hire a substitute. This substitute for the substitute is known as a "contrapunto."

BUT HOLD ON. The substitute's substitute can also hire a substitute. The last man on this totem pole is known as the "angel de medianoche" — the midnight angel.

Every payday the original union member goes over to the pay window, shows his chapa and draws full pay. Then in turn he pays off his punto, who pays off the contrapunto, who pays the medianoche man, who gets mighty little. This is enough for subsistence.

Each fellow up the rung takes his cut of the pay. Only the last substitute does the actual work. But each is beholden to the original longshoreman who is one of the 1,000 union members of the Communist-dominated Sindicato de Estibadores.

Thus thousands of men, and naturally their families, are in effect controlled by the small band of Sindicato leadership. No one can get into the union unless a member dies or leaves. Each new member needs the approval of the union chiefs.

Membership is coveted because each original longshoreman actually is a strawboss on his own.

AFTER HE HIRES his punto, the original longshoreman simply gets another job or goes into business. He can fire his punto any time he wants or, in effect, order him to get rid of the contrapunto or the midnight angel.

With such power over the livelihood of thousands of families, the pro-Castro Sindicato's influence has spread to allied waterfront workers.

Some time ago the longshoremen's union organized the "Maritime Bloc." This consists of shipbuilding workers, seafarers, and members of other dockside trades. Any time the maritime bloc wishes it can tie up this country's four ports — Talara, Ilo, Mollendo and the one here in Callao.

This could be accomplished by calling a camouflaged political strike.

A heavy part of this country's economy is based on the fishing industry. Any harm to this activity seriously injures the entire nation. The fleet of 70 and 80-foot craft in front of me, for example, fishes for a unique kind of anchovy. It is used for special foods and even in the development of ingredient for a type of bread.

THIS MAKES up part of the fish and fish products which are Peru's biggest export item. The most significant growth in exports in recent years has been in fish meal, which along with related fish products have become Peru's most important foreign exchange earner.

Without the fish business, Peru would see bad times and would be in desperate need of big credits. These would have to come from the United States.

The strategists of the Communist international apparatus know this. That's why they have spent time and money on this waterfront — a set of fishnet-covered piers virtually unknown back home. But it is such fronts which the Communists have pinpointed all through this continent — a strategic set of docks, a jungle area, a power plant, a railroad, a set of government bureaus, special banks.

The prize is enormous — a huge continent, not in our "backyard" but right at our front door.

Very clever people, those Muscovites.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, July 31st, the 212th day of 1963. There are 153 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1769, Gov. Francis Bernard sailed from Boston for his home in England. He is chiefly remembered because he did more in his nine year rule than all other governors combined to irritate the people and promote discord and disunity.

On this date in 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette was commissioned a major general in the American Army.

In 1849, Benjamin Chambers Sr., patented the first breech-loading cannon.

In 1929, the Graf Zeppelin began its trans-Atlantic journey with 19 passengers, a stowaway, and a crew of 40—and reached Lakehurst, New Jersey five days later.

In 1941, the Japanese occupied French Indo-China during World War II.

In 1943, U.S. troops battled Japanese forces near Munda, New Georgia, during World War II.

Ten years ago, Veteran Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio died in New York of cancer.

Clergyman's Function

By David Lawrence

Each Has A Big Job To Do

What is the true function of the clergyman in the racial controversy nowadays? Is it to instigate and lead "non-violent" demonstrations that may become violent? Is it to get one's self arrested by the police for disturbing the peace in order to dramatize the grievances of a group in the David Lawrence community? Or is it to inculcate a spirit of human brotherhood among parishioners and to help them seek divine guidance in the relations of man to man?

These questions arise not only because church groups of various denominations have announced that they will participate in the "March on Washington" on Aug. 28, but because wide publicity has just been given to a letter written by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., explaining that the purpose of "demonstrations" is "to bring to the surface the hidden tension that is already alive."

The letter, written while he was in jail recently in Birmingham, Ala., was in answer to eight clergymen who, although expressing sympathy with his aims, deplored the methods being used.

DR. KING wrote: "You express a great deal of anxiety over our willingness to break laws. This is certainly a legitimate concern. Since we so diligently urge people to obey the Supreme Court's decision of 1954 outlawing segregation in the public schools, at first glance it may seem rather paradoxical for us consciously to break laws."

"One may well ask, 'how can you advocate breaking some laws and obeying others?' The answer lies in the fact that there are two types of laws: just and unjust. . . ."

"Now what is the difference between the two? How does one determine whether a law is just or unjust? A just law is a man-made code that squares with the moral law or the law of God. An unjust law is a code that is out of harmony with the moral law. . . ."

"One who breaks an unjust law must do so openly, lovingly, and with a willingness to accept the penalty. I submit that an individual who breaks a law that conscience tells him is unjust and who willingly accepts the penalty of imprisonment in order to arouse the conscience of the community over its injustice is in reality expressing the highest respect for law. . . ."

"Actually, we who engage in non-violent direct action are not the creators of tension. We merely bring to the surface the hidden tension that is already alive."

Is it the function of any clergyman, whether or not he is a Negro, to endorse or participate in "demonstrations" that embitter public feelings and produce resentments?

Can one still expect that men who preach from the pulpit will primarily try to help individuals to apply reason instead of physical force in endeavoring to settle moral questions?

UNDER CONDITIONS of anarchy, every man decides for himself what laws he will obey, and in a totalitarian state, the government decides what the morals of the community shall be.

In the United States, under a written Constitution, the processes by which laws are made and the methods of enforcement of such laws are set forth with the approval of the people's elected representatives. Disputes as to the meaning of laws are left to the courts to decide.

If, as Dr. King says, each man can decide for himself what laws he will obey or disobey, what laws are "just" or "unjust," and which ones can be disregarded at will, then there will be little respect for what is known as "law and order."

For many years the lynch mobs followed the doctrine that the rapist or murderer was guilty anyhow and should be hanged at once, because the courts were too slow. No clergyman arose to defend that practice, and public opinion eventually triumphed as the lynchings were brought to an end by the process of reason and through understanding of moral law—namely, that two wrongs do not make a right.

The clergy is not a unit on the issues that Dr. Martin Luther King discusses in his letter. He himself has been arrested 13 times. Few ministers believe that this kind of exhibitionism is necessary to persuade fair-minded American citizens that equal opportunities for employment shall be given to those who are qualified or that equal facilities shall be provided by the government wherever it is constitutional to do so.

The privilege of a person to sell to whomever he pleases in his place of business is still an individual right. The injustices or mistakes committed by individuals cannot be remedied by demonstrations that disturb the peace and cause riots.

THE CLERGYMEN of all races have a big job to do. Crime is widespread in America. Juvenile delinquency is often the fault of parents. When the clergy intervenes in the lawmaking process, it takes sides and finds itself immersed in domestic politics.

Plainly the function of the clergy is, by their spiritually governed lives, to inculcate respect for and a receptiveness to teachings of true morality.

It will be harder and harder for clergymen to wield influence in the community if they disregard laws, get themselves arrested, and announce that they are the best judges of what statutory laws shall be obeyed or disobeyed.

France's Future

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

French President Charles de Gaulle, in front of a splendid red silk curtain, talked to a news conference 80 minutes Monday and brushed off as if it were stupid one of the most important questions.

He was asked his ideas about a successor.

De Gaulle, 72, has another three years to go as president. When he took power five years ago, France, in political chaos since World War II, was teetering toward civil war. Politics were a nightmare.

After five years, he has failed to achieve lasting political reform or to provide for what comes after him. He once said: "After me, a mess."

Thus, while his whole career has been dedicated to the restoration of French grandeur and influence, he has done little to make sure France after him will have the stability necessary to endure.

For this reason, he gives the impression of a mystic trying to play a celestial slot machine.

For years he has pulled the lever, seeking the right combination to fit his dreams: a new Europe under French leadership, a firm new relationship with Germany, perhaps a new relationship with the Soviet Union and an undeniable place for himself in history. It has eluded him.

But he acts and talks, as he did Monday, as if it were only a matter of time when somehow, perhaps because it's De Gaulle wishing it so, he will give the lever a magic pull and hear that tinkling, tumbling sound that means a jackpot.

Three years ago in Washington, to Congress and newsmen, he made easing relations with the Soviet Union "paramount."

Can one still expect that men who preach from the pulpit will primarily try to help individuals to apply reason instead of physical force in endeavoring to settle moral questions?

That was just three weeks before Premier Khrushchev broke up the summit conference in Paris with De Gaulle, President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But last week Khrushchev finally agreed with the United States and Britain on a nuclear test ban in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. De Gaulle wanted no part of it. He said the world situation hasn't changed "one whit." He said France would not join.

Khrushchev last week talked of an East-West nonaggression pact. Maybe it's a pipe dream. But De Gaulle made it impossible by saying France would not part of that, either.

He said France treasures the Western Alliance nations. But he's unhappy with NATO, the military organization which gives the alliance meaning.

He said France will go on making nuclear weapons, unless the United States and the Soviet Union destroy theirs. This is so far in the future it's invisible. So France has a good excuse, by De Gaulle's reasoning, to go on making weapons.

For this reason, he gives the impression of a mystic trying to play a celestial slot machine.

For years he has pulled the lever, seeking the right combination to fit his dreams: a new Europe under French leadership, a firm new relationship with Germany, perhaps a new relationship with the Soviet Union and an undeniable place for himself in history. It has eluded him.

Test Ban Irks Peking

Angry Red Chinese Hint At New Tension For Asia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

There are ominous signs that the Red Chinese, angry and frustrated because of Premier Khrushchev's policies of peaceful coexistence, are hell-bent for reckless action in Asia. They may even be toying with the idea of risking renewed war in Korea.

The Red Chinese attitude, reflected in recent statements by Asian Communist leaders, appears to be a direct result of the Soviet-British-U.S. agreement to discontinue all nuclear tests except those underground.

The ambushing of U.S. soldiers in South Korea looked anything but accidental. The Red Chinese are making noises indicating they want to play the heat once again in that area.

In Southeast Asia, Peking indicates an impatience to clean up the situation in Indochina and drive the West and its influence out of South Viet Nam and Laos. The war in Viet Nam may get hotter.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru has warned his people to be ready for any eventuality, as if expecting that a Red Chinese buildup along India's borders may be the prelude to new warlike pressures.

Peking is getting all-out support from the North Korean Communists in the argument with Moscow about how world communism should advance. The Soviets seem to have lost all control over the North Koreans. This may be true, too, in smoldering Indochina.

Backed by the Chinese, North Korean Communist leaders are sounding as truculent as they did before an armistice halted the Korean action 10 years ago.

Recently a high-ranking North Korean Communist toured Red China. On his return last week to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, he said in a speech that "one half of our territory (meaning South Korea) is under the occupation of the U.S. imperialists and we have not yet completed the national liberation revolution."

"National liberation" is a Communist way of describing a war to advance communism. It is Red China's contention that Khrushchev's policy of easing tensions with the West hampers the "national liberation movement."

If the Red Chinese start something dangerous in Asia, they could put Khrushchev on an uncomfortable spot, demanding that he choose between his Chinese allies and the West.

New Date Set In City Man's Traffic Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today reluctantly granted another continuance in a hearing for Melva Harris, 49, of 1071 Pennsylvania Ave., charged with two violations as an aftermath of a traffic mishap Sunday on Pennsylvania Ave. at Mulberry St.

Harris' case originally had Monday at 9 a. m. on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and operating a motor vehicle after his driver's permit had been suspended.

Harris case originally had been continued from Monday until today after he requested time to obtain an attorney. He appeared without counsel today and said he required another continuance in order to engage an attorney.

After granting the continuance, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented: "This case already has been continued once. This is the last continuance. Be prepared Monday to go to trial with or without counsel."

The court continued Harris' $500 bond. Police said Harris was cited after his truck struck the rear of a halted 1959 model car driven by William Lister, 50, of 826 Riverview St. He pleaded innocent at arraignment Monday.

Meanwhile, Louis M. DeAngelo, 21, of 757 Virginia Ave., Midland, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of operating an auto without lights. He pleaded guilty.

DeAngelo was cited Friday night at 10 on Broadway at E. 6th St. by Patrolman Paul Blevins.

The officer told the court today in an unsworn statement that he saw DeAngelo's car nearly strike an elderly man who stepped off the curb into the street. The man hopped back onto the sidewalk to avoid being hit and someone in DeAngelo's car shouted: "Watch out, old man!" the officer testified.

Pearl A. Roush, 717 Edwards Ave., is scheduled for a hearing later today on a charge of crashing a traffic light at 5th and Market Sts. at 5:35 this morning. He posted a $17.50 bond after he was cited by Patrolman Howard W. Bosworth, police said.

Wellsville Crew Patches Streets

The Wellsville street crew today started patching holes in blacktop streets.

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said every catchbasin in town was cleaned Tuesday.

He said the crew also oiled Lisbon St. from 6th to 10th Sts. The street had been graded previously.

The director also said the steel structure for the floodwall gates on Wells Ave. has been cleaned and painted. It is stored in a small building near the gateway.

The steps leading up the side of the floodwall also are being painted.

Baldasare said the city also will restore the signs on the floodwall.

The city's garbage packer truck has been returned to service. The clutch pressure plate in the "red" packer burned out Friday about noon. Another truck was used to keep up with collections.

Boy Dies In Pike Collision Caused By Rack Off Car

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A luggage rack that dropped off an automobile on the Ohio Turnpike set up an accident that killed a 6-year-old Mount Lebanon, Pa. boy and hospitalized his mother and three other children Tuesday.

Killed in the accident eight miles west of the Sandusky-Norwalk interchange was John Weber. In fair condition in Bellevue Hospital in nearby Bellevue were Mrs. Marcia Weber, 34, and her children, Constance, 9, William, 8, and Robin, 2.

The luggage rack dropped off a car driven by Vernon Post, 36, of Long Island, N.Y. Both he and Mrs. Weber were driving in the eastbound lane. Witnesses told the Highway Patrol that Post had stopped and was running back to retrieve the rack when Mrs. Weber, driving a van-type car, swerved the car but it hit the rack and turned end over end.

Michigan holds a 35-16 edge in its football clashes with Michigan State. Four games were ties.

Police Probe Man's Injury

Police are continuing investigation of a case in which a 56-year-old Newell man was found lying injured in a traffic lane on outer Dresden Ave. early this morning.

The victim, unable to give his name, when questioned by police, was identified later by a relative as William Rickey of 3rd St., Newell. Rickey was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible head injury and abrasions of the scalp.

The injured man was discovered at 1:25 a. m. by the unidentified occupants of a late model convertible carrying Pennsylvania license plates, police said. Dispatched to investigate, Patrolman H. W. Bosworth summoned an ambulance to take the injured man to the hospital.

Officer Bosworth said he found Rickey lying in the westbound traffic lane, bleeding from the left ear and apparently dazed. He said the injured man did not respond to questioning.

Also listed as witnesses were John Morell, 133 1/2 W. 6th St. and James Williams, 1065 Elmwood St. The two local men said they were in an auto directly behind the Pennsylvania car. They noted that the Pennsylvania car suddenly swerved to the right to miss the prostrate man, then halted on the berm.

The occupants of both cars alighted and found Rickey on the pavement. The local pair remained with the injured man while the Pennsylvania motorists proceeded to headquarters to notify police. Officers tentatively listed the injured man as Rickey, then summoned a relative, who confirmed the identification.

Band's Head Explains Non-Appearance Here

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet received a letter Tuesday from Capt. R. H. Barton of Springfield, former city resident, explaining why the reactivated Civil War Second Brigade Band of Springfield did not make an appearance here Saturday, as scheduled.

Apologizing for the non-appearance, Barton said last-minute cancellations by several members of the band made it impossible for the unit to appear. Several of the members are employed in vital jobs at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and learned at the last minute that they would be unable to make the trip, he said.

Barton wrote the mayor last week and was granted permission for the band to parade through the business district and present a concert on the Diamond as part of the observance of the centennial of Confederate Gen. John H. Morgan's capture.

Assault Case Hearing Reset For Thursday

Hearing on an assault charge slated Tuesday against David Paolino, 23, of N. Market St., Lisbon, was again postponed to Thursday at 1:30 p. m. before County Judge James L. MacDonald.

Paolino was arrested July 1 in East Liverpool on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon after George Batcha of West Point alleged he was cut and beaten early June 29 outside Mark's Landing Tavern at Guilford Lake.

Miss Ford, 38, who said she is penniless and has been living with relatives in El Monte, Calif., testified that during the last few years she and Paul, 47, made records and personal appearances together, with annual income ranging from $250,000 to $500,000. They have been separated since last June 19.

She said Paul controls all their assets and lives in their 29-room

The alimony order was made pending trial of Miss Ford's separate maintenance suit, which charges cruelty.

Boeuf En Brochette Varies Usual Cookout

For your next cookout, why not plan for something other than the customary steak, hamburger, or hot dogs?

Kabobs, for example. Actually, most of our popular meats are greatly enhanced when served on a skewer in combination with other compatible foods.

There are many possible variations of these delicious and easy-to-prepare meals, and Boeuf en Brochette is a tasty example.

Because men are such notorious lovers of beef, onion, garlic, and other seasonings, boeuf en brochette is one kabob dish the men in your family will especially appreciate and many insist upon cooking themselves.

BOEUF EN BROCHETTE
2-3 cup salad oil
1/4 cup vinegar
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 1/2 teaspoons Italian seasoning
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
2 1/2 teaspoons instant minced or chopped onion
2 1/2 pounds sirloin steak, cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes
2 cups (15 1/2 oz.) boiled onions

2 large green peppers, cut into 1-inch squares
8 medium-sized mushrooms, or 4 small tomatoes cut in halves
Combine first seven ingredients and pour over beef cubes. Cover dish and let stand 3 to 4 hours at room temperature, or overnight in refrigerator. Alternate cubes of beef, onions, and green pepper on 8 skewers. Brush with marinade and broil until meat is done to desire. Brush during cooking with marinade. Add mushrooms or tomatoes to skewers during last few minutes of cooking. Serves eight.

Defense Subpoenas 8 In Ratterman's Case

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The defense was expected to call as many as eight witnesses today in the retrial of six men charged with violating George Ratterman's civil rights, but much of the interest centered on Dr. Rudolph Muehling Jr.

Muehling, a University of Kentucky toxicologist, testified in the first U. S. District Court trial last year that chloral hydrate — also known as knockout drops — leaves the bloodstream in less than an hour. But he admitted under cross-examination that some by-products of the drug remain in the body much longer.

Chloral hydrate is an important issue in the trial because Ratterman claims he was drugged and that the arrest was a frame-up to hurt his candidacy. Traces of the drug were found in blood samples taken from Ratterman about seven hours after he was arrested with a striptease dancer.

The football series between Georgia and Georgia Tech is tied at 26-26. Five games ended in

2 Escapees Captured

After Day Of Freedom

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Two escapees from the Federal Reformatory who made their way north to Delaware County, 70 miles from here, are back inside the walls after about 24 hours of shaky liberty.

FBI agents captured Donald Hash, 24, of Cleveland and Eugene T. Swatling, 25, of Clinton, Ky., separately about four miles apart Tuesday. The two, both in prison for transporting stolen cars interstate, had walked away from a dairy detail Monday morning.

end of December. His is the only term on the three-man board which expires.

Gray retired 14 years ago after working 52 years in district potteries. He was employed last as a kiln-placer at the Hall China Co.

Meanwhile, Salineville village certified a Council resolution asking a vote on a 1.7-mill levy for five years to finance street lighting. The new resolution replaces a previous measure seeking renewal of a 2-mill levy.

The revised resolution was required because state law says a voted levy must be reduced when property valuations increase so that it does not produce a more revenue than when it originally was enacted.

Resolutions reducing the millage of previously-voted levies have been enacted by several subdivisions under similar circumstances.

The board issued a call Tuesday for printers' bids on ballots for the Nov. 5 election, setting the deadline Aug. 8 at 2 p. m.

and parts of Stark, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

Several of those counties already have been declared drought disaster areas.

Walker said the DCSA was able to divert the Ohio production to Youngstown, Minerva, and to several other Ohio outlets for use as powdered milk.

Because of the class change, the milk price will drop to about $2 a hundred pounds, Walker said. Top price on the Pittsburgh market was about $4.

A check of several food stores in Midland shows the strike has not noticeably affected their supply of milk, as independent dairies of Beaver County are producing sufficient supplies.

One dairy in Midland said it has been handling about three times the normal amount of business since the strike began.

At Pittsburgh, negotiations between union and dairy bargainers recessed today after a marathon session failed to settle a three-day milk strike in Western Pennsylvania.

State Mediator James Rush said dairy officials were considering a new contract offer proposed by the union early today. Details of the offer were not disclosed. He said negotiations were scheduled to resume later today.

they carry a possible total penalty of 25 years in prison.

Ward, 50, an osteopath and artist, was found unconscious this morning by a friend, Noel Howard Jones, in whose Chelsea district flat he had spent the night.

A resident of the building said he understood Ward had left "lots and lots of notes."

A source close to Ward said that among the notes was one to Julia Gulliver, 22, his constant companion in recent weeks; one to Barry O'Brien, a newspaper reporter who testified in his defense at the trial, and one to his lawyers.

Ward, charged with two counts of procuring young girls for immoral purposes and three counts of living off the proceeds of prostitution, could get a maximum of 25 years in prison.

Ward is accused of operating a stable of prostitutes in which Christine Keeler, the former mistress of ex-war minister John D. Profumo, and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies were star attractions.

for 18 months before achieving legislative civil service status. This means that some 14,000 persons who may have worked for the state as long as eight years must be approved by their new Republican bosses or be fired.

The same applied to some 1,500 Highway Department technical and professional employees who were accorded statutory civil service in 1961.

The House is expected to hold a final vote today on a proposed compulsory school reorganization measure.

The reorganization plan, intended by Gov. Scranton as a substitute for the 1961 compulsory law, has been toned down by the Senate to the point where the Governor has appealed for the House to strengthen it.

The House adjourned in confusion last night after a Democratic-Republican hassle over the measure. Democrats claimed the GOP leaders broke an agreement to take up proposed revisions in the bill before it was placed up for a final vote.

Segregation On Sunday

Church Leaders Tackle Racial Problem

Despite official pronouncements in favor of integration, racial bars persist widely at the church door in America. But a new militancy on the issue is apparent this turbulent summer as individual churches face the problem. Third in a special series of articles by The Associated Press on racial crisis.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer

The picture in the Sunday School lesson showed a group of babies in a clinic, two of them Negroes. Another picture showed three children at play, one a Negro.

The story discussion said: "God loves white children yellow children, brown children. Dorothy's hands are very pale. Her hair is golden. Ben's hands are brown. His eyes are black. Do you think God loves Dorothy better because her hands are white?"

"No, indeed not — it would be sad indeed if we all looked alike." Most American religious bodies, in their official pronouncements and educational materials, have long stressed the equal worth of all human beings, whatever their color—that all were created by God and precious to Him.

At the same time, however, the churches have often been described as the most racially segregated major institutions in the nation's life.

"The shame of Sunday morning," goes an oft-used phrase of self-reproach in church circles. And another: "The most segregated hour of the week is at 11 a.m. on Sunday."

Since church congregations harbor intimate personal relationships among whole families — adults, youths and children — it has been maintained that once Negro and white mingle fully there, racial barriers will collapse elsewhere.

In that sense, the local church becomes a testing ground — a point of decision — for the whole community pattern.

Churches have long been rallying points for pro-integration activity in many instances, and some Southern ministers have been roughed up for their parts in it.

On the other hand, the churches themselves in their local compositions have remained predominantly one-color units, even though the number of integrated parishes has been increasing rapidly of late.

This is the lump in the throat of the churches — the acknowledged gap between their official pleas, and their on-the-spot conditions.

With the racial crisis flaring and with Negroes demanding equity with new vehemence and immediacy, church strategy generally has undergone an extraordinary change in the last few months.

It has switched from talk, to action. "It amounts to a new posture toward methodology," says the Rev. Dr. Alfred S. Kramer, a sociologist-clergyman consultant to the Racial and Cultural Relations Department of the National Council of Churches.

"After years of repentance and appeals for racial reconciliation, the churches have now begun a course of social intervention at the first level."

This means official backing for direct action challenging segregation on the local scene.

As expressed by the national council, which includes 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members, the method calls for personal involvement in every phase of the struggle for justice including negotiations and demonstration.

A new interdenominational "Commission on Religion and Race" was formed in June, to implement the task.

Steps were under way to form local arms in communities in all regions to check congregational practices, to support and join in demonstrations, to press for civil rights legislation, and to organize "corps of prison chaplains" to discourage police mistreatment of demonstrators.

"There's a job to be done in every city and every village in America," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, vice chairman of the commission, and chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Blake and Bishop Daniel Corrigan of the Episcopal Church were arrested July 4 in a Baltimore integration demonstration.

The new punch in the church stand has showed up in many ways. The United Church of Christ (a merger including Congregationalists) at its general synod in Denver this summer shaped a potent financial weapon.

It moved to make loans for new church construction contingent on nondiscrimination in building work, and on a commitment to an interracial policy by congregational leaders.

United Presbyterians have adopted a similar policy. The denomination this spring appropriated a half-million dollars to support direct-action programs for integration. The Disciples of Christ also made a special allocation for this purpose.

Roman Catholicism was a forerunner in integration action. In 1947, Joseph Cardinal Ritter, of St. Louis, desegregated parochial schools there, despite lay resistance. Catholic Bishop Vincent S. Waters did the same in the diocese of Raleigh, N.C., in 1953, ahead of the court decision.

He got shoved about in the process, but stuck to his rule. "Segregation is a product of darkness and the time has come to end it," he said.

Much of the reinforced church activity was geared for an interfaith approach.

That aspect got its big push last January at the historic and unprecedented "National Conference on Religion and Race" in Chicago, the first time leading Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic bodies had joined in tackling the problem.

"Racism is our most serious domestic evil," the conference declared. "We must eradicate it with all diligence and speed."

Permanent machinery was set up for continuing interfaith operations, with a local network organized in Atlanta, Detroit, New Orleans, Miami, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Antonio, Little Rock, San Francisco and elsewhere.

Among the nation's Negroes, about 10 million belong to separate all-Negro Protestant denominations—Baptist and Methodist. About 500,000 are Roman Catholics and another 500,000 belong to predominantly white Protestant bodies, although they are chiefly in one-color congregations.

At the national level, in most denominations, and in interdenominational bodies, Negroes have considerable representation.

But the pattern rarely is reflected on the local scene—in the overwhelming white suburban congregations, and in de facto segregated city neighborhoods, North and South.

In its formal and official preachments, however, the church traditionally has pleaded for interracial brotherhood.

In many cases, groups of Southern pastors, in the midst of racial tension, have issued manifestos calling for equal treatment of the Negro. Some pastors have lost their posts as a result.

Among those Southern preachers who support segregation, some maintain that the idea of interracial mixing is Communist-inspired. Some also argue that the Bible teaches segregation.

"God created the races distinct from one another," declared a Southern fundamentalist group.

On the other hand, pro-integrationist ministers cite many Biblical passages in support of all men's equality before God, such as Acts 17:26, saying God "made of the blood of all nations"; and Galatians 3:28, saying men are "all one in Christ Jesus," without divisions of race or status.

In any case, the racial bars have persisted widely at the church door.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wayne Hays, R-Ohio, says he believes the House will approve a compromise amendment to set a ceiling of $25,000 on all claims under the $73 million Philippines war damage bill and to bar any fees to lobbyists.

Hays, who led five House members of a 10-member Senate-House conference committee which worked out the compromise, said, "Either we accept the compromise or we give the whole amount to the big claimants and their lobbyist friends."

Rooney Wins Election For Rep. Walters Post

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Fred B. Rooney, 37, a Democrat, has been elected to fill the unexpired term of his political tutor, the late U.S. Rep. Francis E. Walter, in a special election in Pennsylvania's 15th Congressional District.

Rooney said his victory Tuesday over Republican Robert G. Bartlett, 31, a personnel executive at Bethlehem Steel Co., was "a decisive vindication of President Kennedy whose policies were under attack" in the campaign, and a repudiation of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton.

In the unofficial tally, Rooney received 48,897 votes to Bartlett's 42,174.

It's Adults Turn To Remove Flab, Fitness Council Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

"ONE, TWO—BEND!" Push ups, knee bends and the like are whipping American students into shape and now it's the adults' turn, so reports the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

"Today's school children are spending more time in physical fitness programs and are measurably stronger and in better physical condition than the school children of a few years ago," the council said.

The council, which operates under the direction of University of Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson, still found a lot of flab, however.

To bring more adults into the sweat-and-strain regimen, the council endorsed a 64-page illustrated booklet full of home exercises and ways to keep fit through games.

The booklet goes on sale Aug. 20 and may be purchased for 35 cents through the Superintendent of Documents at the Government Printing Office.

Dr. Illia Due As President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Presidential electors vote in provincial capitals today with a country doctor, Arturo Illia, slated to be their choice for Argentina's 29th president.

The final tally is not expected until Thursday, but Illia, 62, has more than enough pledges to win. The moderate leftist awaited the results at his home in Cruz del Eje, 460 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, where he has mixed politics with prescriptions for 25 years.

His administration is expected to be anti-Communist, although he promised in his campaign to cancel foreign oil development contracts. U.S. firms hold most of these contracts.

Barracks City Slated For Quake Survivors

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Yugoslav government rushed plans today to set up a barracks city to house the survivors of Skopje until a new city is built.

Dynamite and bulldozers continued leveling the ruins of last Friday's earthquake.

Officials said they plan to erect cheap but bearable shelters around the city.

More than half of the 270,000 citizens of Skopje have been moved to other communities.

Others were still trickling away out of the area until the danger of a typhus epidemic is past.

Six days after the quake hit Skopje, the count of recovered bodies stood close to 1,000. Authorities said at least 700 more persons were missing and presumed dead.

Council Clerk Has Costs On Street Lights

Owners of business district property affected by an assessment for a new downtown street lighting program have been notified they will not receive individual statements of the charges, but the data may be obtained from Council Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger.

Information on operation of the assessment program has been relayed to members of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which sponsored the project, by City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

Zollinger said property owners desiring data on the assessments may visit his office on the second floor of City Hall or telephone him at FU 5-5394. He said a number of persons mistakenly have sought the information at the office of Auditor Lawrence Applegate.

The deadline falls Aug. 14 for payment of the 1963 assessment without penalty. The assessments will be collected by the auditor's office. After the deadline, the unpaid charges will be forwarded to County Auditor Kenneth Bell to be placed on next year's tax duplicate. Those collected through the county auditor will be subject to an additional 3 per cent fee.

Cooper said payment of the charges to the city auditor would mean an advantage both to the property-owners and to the city. The property-owner will save 3 per cent and the city then will be able to pay its first billing for the new system, expected from the Ohio Power Co. about Nov. 15.

If collected on the tax duplicate, the money would not be turned over to the city until late next February, the solicitor explained.

Council previously enacted legislation setting an assessment for the fluorescent lights at $1.43 per front foot for this year. A petition circulated by businessmen asking the new program estimated the assessment at $1.68 a foot.

The charges per foot probably will decline in ensuing years, Cooper said. That's because some of the initial costs will not be encountered again as the program continues. They include charges for legal advertising and special counsel.

Gunman Surrenders

In Pittsburgh Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—One of two gunmen who stole $9,606 from a Pittsburgh savings and loan firm Monday turned himself in today and handed over $3,172 of the loot, the FBI said.

An agent said Edward Grimm, 19, of Pittsburgh, surrendered himself at a downtown intersection after he heard authorities were on his trail.

The other hand, identified by police as Charles Bowman, 29, of Pittsburgh, was arrested minutes after the holdup at the Lyman Savings & Loan Association.

Water Board Names 2 Men

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department, named two men to fill vacant posts at a meeting today at City Hall.

The board named: Robert L. Lockhart, 40, of 146 N. Surry Rd., Fisher Park, as a meter reader and assistant repairman.

James Olmstead, an employee for approximately three years, promoted from meter reader to meter repairman, filling the post left vacant by the recent death of Kenneth Kinsey.

In appointing Lockhart, the board filled the job left vacant by Olmstead's promotion.

Married and the father of two children, Lockhart was an employee of the former Edwin M. Knowles China Co. He will begin work tomorrow at the start of a new city pay period, according to Donald T. Duke, superintendent.

Lockhart was at the top of a 10-man field which scored passing grades in a Civil Service Commission test in mid-June. Thirteen competed in the exam.

In his new post as repairman, Olmstead will work at the department's building near the Thompson Ave. reservoir. He was advanced as the result of a promotional exam held by the Civil Service Commission.

individual things, having little to do with the general economy. And both, especially sugar, appear to be headed downward again.

Many business economists sum up the price-level situation this way:

Competition, both foreign and domestic, will make it hard for producers to push their prices very high very fast.

The high level of unemployment will discourage labor unions from pushing their demands too vigorously and forcing prices up.

The administration, faced with a continuing balance of payments problem, will continue to discourage any general price increases.

Beer

a judge informed him that juveniles were obtaining alcoholic beverages by telephoning their order to a "carry-out" and stating that although no one would be at home, the beer should be left on the back porch and money would be placed beneath a flower pot or in the mail box.

Once delivery was made, the judge told Cook, the juveniles would pick up the beer, go to some pre-arranged spot and drink it.

At the same time Cook informed all municipal and county law enforcement officers of the problem and the action the department is taking.

He pointed out that sale of beer to a juvenile regardless of the method used is a clear violation of the Liquor Control Act.

City Resident Faces Hearing In Car Crash

A city woman was cited by Hancock sheriff's deputies in a three-car accident Monday afternoon at 3:35 on Route 30 on the outskirts of Chester.

Deputies said Janet Lee Kelly, 22, of 927 Montgomery Ave., lost control of her westbound sedan on a curve and struck two east-bound cars.

They were the 1959 sedan of John I. Hazlet, 54, of 536 Campground Rd., Wellsville and the 1963 sedan of Angelo Dormo, 48, of Royal Oak, Mich.

The crash demolished the East Liverpool woman's 1955 sedan, caused $800 damage to Hazlet's car and $60 damage to Dormo's vehicle.

Deputies cited the woman on a charge of failure to have her vehicle under control.

Staff For Tax Job Expanded

Two departments in the Hancock County Courthouse have shored up their staffs in getting the tax-collection machinery of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny ready to roll into high gear this fall.

An estimated 30,000 personal property and real estate tax statements are being prepared by the tax collection office of the sheriff for mailing soon.

Four employees have been added to the regular staff of Miss Eleanor Patterson, Mrs. Irene Cullen and Miss Diane Huff in the sheriff's tax office. They are Mrs. Richard Mort, Mrs. Ronald Weekley, Mrs. Ralph Blake and Mrs. Thomas Bradley.

Hired as extra help in the office of Assessor Arnold Anderson are Mrs. Jack Evans and Mrs. Margaret Endler. The regular staff includes Miss Helen Cuddy, chief deputy assessor, Mrs. David Thomas, Mrs. Gene Clark and Miss Janet Wilson.

Litigation over a property reappraisal program delayed the mailing of the tax statements.

Bike Collision Injures Industry Teen-Agers

Two industry area teen-agers were admitted to the Rochester General Hospital Tuesday night as a result of a bicycle collision on Tuscarawas Rd. near the Fairview Grange Hall.

Late Starting Angels Top Tribe In 10th; Yanks Maintain Margin

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer They aren't flying high, but it appears the Los Angeles Angels have at least gotten off the ground.

The Angels' latest victory came Tuesday night at Cleveland when they frittered away a four-run lead, then won 6-4 with two runs in the 10th inning.

The New York Yankees kept their eight-game hold on the league lead by beating Kansas City 6-2 with four runs in the eighth inning. Chicago's second-place White Sox trimmed Washington 3-1.

Baltimore had 18 hits and Milt Pappas pitched a four-hitter as the Orioles blasted Detroit 9-0. Vic Wertz's pinch single sparked a five-run sixth inning that carried Minnesota over Boston 6-3.

Ed Roebuck Angry, Goes To Senators

By The Associated Press Relief specialist Ed Roebuck, leaving his Los Angeles prison for the American League dungeon at Washington, was on his way to join the Senators today after firing a high hard one at Dodger Manager Walt Alston.

A 32-year-old right-hander with 15 years service in the Dodger organization, Roebuck was sent to last-place Washington Tuesday in a waiver deal in which National League-leading Los Angeles acquired infielder Marv Breeding. It was the major deal on a day of player shuffling.

Roebuck admitted that he was "sort of sad to leave," then lashed out. "But in any event, it's like getting out of prison—getting away from Alston."

He added: "I think the Dodgers will win the pennant in spite of Alston."

The Chicago Cubs called up pitchers Cal Koonce and Tom Baker from Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League while sending down hurlers Dick LeMay and Jack Warner. Koonce won 10 games for the Cubs last year.

The Cincinnati Reds purchased the contract of Jim Coates, who pitched this year for the New York Yankees and Washington, from San Diego of the PCL. Sent to the Padres was pitcher Jim Owens.

As for Roebuck's remarks, Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi agreed that the Dodgers would win the pennant with Alston "now that Eddie is in Washington."

Bavasi said he thought Roebuck, who had made 29 appearances and had a 2-4 record for the Dodgers, "is trying to blame somebody else for his own faults. If Walter didn't pitch him there must have been a reason."

Duke Star Signs With N.Y. Knick

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Heyman, the most sought-after college basketball player in the country, has come to terms with the team that needs him the most—New York's lowly Knicks of the National Basketball Association.

"I only hope I can live up to their expectations," the 6-foot-5 Heyman said Tuesday after signing.

Mouthguards Fitted Thursday For Beavers

Candidates for the Beaver Local High School varsity football team in grades nine through twelve are to report to the high school Thursday at 1:45 p. m. to be fitted for mouthguards.

Coach Ed Stevens, announced.

ing a two-year contract with New York coach Eddie Donovan, who personally scouted and signed the Duke All-American.

"Playing ball is a challenge, but I don't mind," Heyman said by telephone from Duke, where he is taking summer courses.

Heyman was the sparkplug as Duke reached the semifinals of the NCAA championships last season. He was named the outstanding player in that tourney, in the annual East-West game and was selected AP's Player of the Year. He scored 747 points for an average of 24.9 a game last season.

Heyman was a first-round draft choice of the Knicks, who had the poorest record in the NBA last season and so got first pick.

The University of Kentucky holds a series edge on only three of its 1963 football foes — Virginia Tech, Detroit and Miami of Florida.

McBurney's In 4-3 Playoff Win

McBurney's jumped off to take the lead in the best two-out-of-three playoff series to decide the City Championship in the Little League by nipping Golden Star 4-3, Tuesday at Thompson Park.

McBurney's, the National Division champ, was sparked by a three-run homer off the bat of Myers in the first inning for a 3-0 lead.

Golden Star came back nipping away at the lead with single runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames to tie the score at 3-3 in the sixth.

McBurney's broke the tie but was helped out by Golden Star pitching. In the sixth Lovejoy, the winning hurler, singled and went to third when Musuraca, the relief pitcher, walked the next two batters. Lovejoy scored when Musuraca hit the next batsman to force in the winning run.

Klembara and Musuraca each

Overflow Crowd Expected At Pro Doubleheader

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, whose plans for a pro football doubleheader were greeted with skepticism last year, are considering the possibility of squeezing extra seats into huge Municipal Stadium to accommodate an expected overflow crowd this year.

The Browns' home attendance record is 82,872, but an advance sale that already has topped 36,000 indicates that record may be broken at the second doubleheader exhibition Aug. 17.

The Browns will meet the Baltimore Colts and the Detroit Lions will play the New York Giants in the other game.

Princeton holds a 28-4 edge in its football rivalry with Columbia.

Stallard's 4-Hit Piece Cuts Dodgers Lead To 3 1/2 Games

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets, who hold the first mortgage on the brink of disaster, marched back from the precipice today after ending their 22-game losing streak on the road.

Tracy Stallard kept the Mets from setting an all-time record for consecutive losses away from home by spinning a four-hitter that beat Los Angeles 5-1 Tuesday night and trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to 3 1/2 games over San Francisco.

Willie Mays and Willie McCovey* supplied the firepower for a 5-0 Giants victory over Philadelphia. It was the ninth straight triumph for the San Franciscans, who were 10 games behind Los Angeles 10 days ago.

Stallard served up Roger Maris' 61st homer and was on the mound when the Mets set a modern record for road losses by dropping their 20th straight away from the Polo Grounds.

But the 25-year-old right-hander, the winner when the Mets last won on the road June 15, may never have been sharper than on Tuesday. He allowed only two runners beyond second base in sending the front-runners down to their seventh defeat in 10 games.

The victory left the Mets tied in the record book with the Pittsburgh team of 1890 at 22 road losses.

Third-place St. Louis closed to within four games of the Dodgers by beating Cincinnati 7-5 as Ernie Broglie checked the Reds on one run in 6-1-3 innings of relief work. Milwaukee bombed the Chicago Cubs 9-2 and Pittsburgh walloped Houston 8-1.

The Mets, after losing 10 straight on the current road trip, collected 14 hits against the Dodgers in support of Stallard, who struck out six and walked one in bringing his record to 4-9. Ken McMullen's homer spoiled his shutout. Frank Thomas hit his ninth homer, off loser Bob Miller, 7-7.

Mays slammed two doubles and a single and McCovey hit his 31st homer, a three-run shot, to back up the shutout pitching of Billy O'Dell. O'Dell, nicked for 11 Philadelphia hits, posted his first victory since June 22 while boosting his record to 11-6. McCovey regained the majors' home run lead when he connected against Ray Culp, 10-9.

Broglie, 11-7, struck out seven in his relief stint. Bill White and Charley James homered for the Cardinals, whose three-run fifth tagged Joe Nuxhall, 8-5, with the loss.

Barton Hurls Oakland To Shutout Victory

Dan Barton pitched Oakland Free Methodist to a 5-0 victory over St. Aloysius Tuesday in the Church Softball League.

Oakland featured a balanced hitting attack while Fish with two hits and Charlie Bell's triple paced the losers.

Collegians Face Packers Friday

Every Member Of College All-Star Team To Go Pro

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—When the All-Stars and Green Bay Packers meet in football's midsummer classic Friday night, one or more of the collegians will have their names inscribed in a growing book of memories.

Year after year since the game was inaugurated in 1934, youngsters from college use the game as a stepping stone to greatness in the professional ranks.

Every member of this year's 50-man squad will go to a pro camp, 40 to the National Football League and 10 to the American League. Some will fail to make as a member of the Green Bay Packers. He threw three touchdown passes, two to Don Hutson, and guided the Packers to a 45-28 victory.

It was in 1943 when Otto Graham, present coach of the All-Stars had his moment of glory. Graham intercepted one of Baugh's passes and ran 97 yards for a touchdown in a game which saw the All-Stars dump Washington 27-7.

The following year Cecil Isbell and Johnny Kovach combined on a 39-yard touchdown pass to get the All-Stars rolling towards a 28-16 triumph over Washington. Two years later, Isbell returned

Realtors Take Lead In Colt Loop Playoff

The Realtors took a 1-0 lead in the Colt League playoff series when Jim Hissom pitched and "ran" his team to a 5-4 victory over the Dentists Tuesday night.

The Realtors need another victory to gain the playoff finals in the best two out of three series. Tonight, the Lawyers meet Johnson's Pontiac in the other bracket.

Hissom pitched a five - hitter, fanned 11 batters, stole home once then in the seventh inning when the Realtors scored two runs to come from behind, it was Hissom who scored the winning run when he came all the way from second base on an infield out.

Hissom, Chema and Horgor collected two hits each for the winners. Stevens led the Dentists with two hits.

Jeff MacLean, the losing pitcher, fanned 12 Realtors but his teammates committed five errors.

In a final regular season game played Tuesday, Johnson's Pontiac downed Riverview Florists, 5-1.

3 One-Hitters Feature Action In S. Side Loop

Two Newell pitchers and a Georgetown hurler turned in one-hitters to feature action in the South Side Hot Stove League Tuesday.

Newell gained a sweep in a doubleheader at the expense of Hanover with Stine hurling a one-hitter in a 12-0 contest and Gamble coming back later to duplicate the performance in a 6-0 shutout.

In the first game, Bayless homered for Newell while Gamble came up with two hits in the second contest.

Georgetown defeated Hookstown, 9-1, with Nash allowing only one hit. The winners banged out 13 hits with Ashcroft collecting three.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

I received a most interesting letter from Mrs. Harriet E. Paine, R. D. 2, New Waterford. Mrs. Paine says she is 73 and complains that she can't get around too good anymore and feed the wildlife during the winter like she did in the past.

Relative to squirrels, she goes on to say that in lean years they store dried mushrooms, corn on the cob, berries and will use oats, rye or any kind of grain provided.

In her younger days when she lived in Windsor County, Vermont, she used to fill up a wash tub tied to her sled and go back in the wooded section of her farm and deliver oats, corn, rye and apples for the rabbits and squirrels.

MANY A BAILE of hay she said she has delivered on her sled to the back part of the farm for the benefit of the deer. The only animals she says she does not like are hen hawks, owls, weasel and mink; her reason being because they are wildlife predators.

She went on to draw sketches of mink and weasel sets that some of our male trappers would like to know. On her 1.07 acres where she lives on Rt. 7, she says she has pheasants, quail, plovers, robins, doves, song sparrows, red and bluebirds all nesting on her premises. This is only a part of her interesting letter. If I can get around to it I will stop at her home, since I know she must have lots of interesting stories about wildlife that she did not read in a book.

ONE THING the sportsmen in this county should bring up at the next fish and game hearing is to find out why a person needs a permit to keep a pet skunk.

As the law now stands, skunks can be taken anytime in a year numbers dead or alive. There's no closed season. Naturally, the person taking the skunks must have a hunting license, since they are still classified as fur-bearing animals, unless if taken on your own land.

On the other hand, since you may possess a dead skunk there any sound reason why you should have to obtain a permit to keep a live skunk?

Say for instance, you write the game protector for a permit to keep a skunk. In turn he mails you three forms to be filled out and have notarized. After you return the permit properly filled out, he sends you a copy which is your permit, places one in his file and sends one copy to the district office. All in all, the state has spent 15 cents in postage, plus the cost of having the permits printed for no sound reason that I can see. Absolutely wasted wildlife funds. You even have to renew the permit by March 15, the following year. Kill a thousand and if you want to but don't keep one alive without a permit.

Improvement Of Ferguson Enlightens Steeler Camp

WEST LIBERTY — One wondrous development in the early stages of the Pittsburgh Steelers football training camp has been the work of Bob Ferguson.

At least that is the opinion of the coaching staff. According to them, Fergy has a better attitude, is working harder and is beginning to look like the players the Steelers expected when they drafted him No. 1 a year ago.

Medical Figure Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Harry Shay, 65, director of Fels Research Institute and clinical professor of medicine at the Temple University School of Medicine, died Tuesday.

his freshman season in the National Football League "a complete nightmare". He was all everything in college, ranked as one of the all-time great backs in the Big Ten, winner of the Maxwell Award. But with the pros he was a dud.

In college, he lost only five or six yards in his entire career at Ohio State. He fumbled only once.

With the pros, he carried the ball 20 times for a total of 38 yards and in one series of plays, he fumbled twice.

"I GUESS it just wasn't my year," Fergy recalled the other afternoon as he nursed some of the aches and pains that come with the early practices.

"I thought I was going pretty good when Carl Brettschneider, a linebacker with Detroit, clobbered me on the Adam's apple. That was in our first game of the season.

"Then when I got back into the following game I fumbled twice and I suppose the coaches felt I need a little rest."

WHILE FERGY was resting, John Henry Johnson started rocketing to his greatest year. As a matter of fact, he became the first Steeler to gain over 1000 yards and join a very select group Jim Brown, Steve Van Buren, Joe Perry and a few others.

Ferguson is determined to erase 1962. His pride has been hurt.

"If he keeps working like he has been in the first weeks of practice," backfield coach Mike Nixon said, "he'll surprise and silence a lot of critics. He has a good when Carl Brettschneider, a linebacker with Detroit, clobbered me on the Adam's apple. That for us this year."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: When serving colorless or white foods, try adding a few drops of food coloring — one at a time until the desired color is reached. For years, I have received compliments when serving these pale foods—such as mashed potatoes—simply because they had color appeal and a richer look.

I use food coloring in macaroni or potatoes au gratin, puddings, sauces, custard, giblet gravy, corn bread dressing, mayonnaise for salads, scrambled eggs, rice, pudding and potato salads.

ARIES.

Dear Aries: For years I have put yellow food coloring in mashed potatoes and rice, and green food coloring in green beans and peas, but I have never thought of using it for all these things. You're wonderful!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For quite awhile when I came to the end-slices of a loaf of bread, I have put them in a plastic bag and into the freezer to make bread crumbs whenever they were needed.

Yesterday, a recipe I was using called for some soft bread crumbs so instead of thawing the bread and breaking it up later, I took two frozen slices and grated them on my grater!

This produces an even texture and by the time it is grated, the crumbs are completely thawed! I grate two slices at a time.

MRS. CARL GRIFFITH.

DEAR HELOISE: When vacuuming a velvet chair the other day, my eye caught my suede shoes. I cleaned them more speedily with my vacuum than when I use a suede brush) and did all of my bags, hats and shoes . . . and even dusted an entire nine - drawer dresser that I had started to clean out earlier.

NANCY CURTIS.

DEAR HELOISE: Never toss tea leaves out. Add water to them and pour on houseplants. This is great for the plants . . . especially ferns.

GAIL COOK.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a list of all items used when we go on camping trips in our packing gear. I check through this list just before getting into the car. I decided to do this after the gas lantern was left at home one time!

Many times we have gone on camping trips and left the salt! And just what are you going to do without salt?

A CAMPER.

DEAR HELOISE: Before laundering stained and muddy blue jeans I put them out on the grass and spray them for a few minutes with my garden hose nozzle turned to "strong." This leaves the dirt on the ground instead of in the washing machine!

I also use a pair of older pillow slips on my pillows before putting on the regular pair. This protects the pillow ticking and also makes the pillow slips look whiter, especially if the ticking is colored!

Promotion Plans For 1964 Aired By Businessmen

Plans for increased group promotional activity in 1964 were launched Tuesday when an East Liverpool Merchants Association committee met in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The promotion committee, headed by G. W. Woods, agreed to meet again in August to put in final form the proposal it will present to ELMA members when the businessmen's group resumes meetings Sept. 10. ELMA meetings have been in a summer recess since June.

The committee discussed preparation of a "promotion calendar" for 1964 to keep the members advised of upcoming events. It also discussed the possibility of staging a special event late this fall when new fluorescent street lighting goes into service in the business district.

Other members of the committee are Charles Averell, Harry Barlow, Arthur Montgomery, Kenneth Montooth, Tom Phillips, George A. Shaw, Charles Stuart, Jack Shaw, S. A. Weiner and Dayton Allen.

Dear friends,

The funeral directing profession dates back to the Pharaohs in ancient Egypt and requires extensive study and preparation. Today a funeral director often takes periodic post-graduate work to maintain the highest professional standards.

Besides a special talent for service—a great deal of dedication and patience is required.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Police Hold Boy Who Beat Ohio Girl, 10, In Barn

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Ten-year-old Carolyn Coghill of near-Germantown lay in critical condition at Miami Valley Hospital today, victim of a fierce beating and choking for which Montgomery County authorities blame a 16-year-old boy.

The youth, described as a former psychiatric outpatient, was taken into custody Tuesday night and placed in the Juvenile Detention Home. Charges have not been filed.

Authorities said the boy, also of Germantown, enticed Carolyn into a barn at a home where he was cutting grass. They said he clubbed her repeatedly with a 7-foot iron bar, choked her and dragged her up a steep flight of stairs to a loft area. According to officers, he then went out and got her bicycle and placed it in the loft near her unconscious form.

The boy went back to mowing the lawn. The girl regained consciousness and staggered out of the barn. Persons saw her and took her to the hospital.

Police called to the scene found blood on the boy's clothing. They said he didn't know why he did it. There was no evidence of sexual assault.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Area Resident Dies

William A. Mulherin, 85, of South Pasadena, Calif., a native of Summitville, died Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Salem Central Clinic, where he had been a patient about 23 days.

Mr. Mulherin became ill July 6 while visiting his brother Joseph Mulherin of Summitville.

He was born Nov. 11, 1877, to the late Charles Mulherin and Catherine Deveney Mulherin. He operated an orange grove at South Pasadena until retiring and was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church there.

He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Mulder of Salineville.

Services will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. John's Catholic Church in Summitville by Fr. Frederick Anzino. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call Thursday afternoon and evening at the Maple Funeral Home in Kensington where prayer services will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m.

George Schrader

LISBON — George Schrader, 411 E. Washington St., died suddenly Tuesday at 11:45 p. m. at Salem Central Clinic, where he was admitted at noon. He was 53.

Born June 23, 1910, in Jefferson County to Joseph Schrader and Myrtle Wright Schrader, he spent most of his lifetime in this area and was a machinist before he had to quit because of arthritis.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Allie Raber of Columbia Station; four sisters, Mrs. Tinnie Penny and Mrs. Grace Barnes of Lisbon, Mrs. Lucy Reich of Alliance, and Mrs. Mabel Weekly of Santa Cruz, Calif.; and four grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Lizzie Livengood

Services were held Tuesday afternoon in Kingwood, W. Va., for Mrs. Lizzie Livengood, 71, of Morgantown, who died Saturday afternoon.

She was the mother of Mrs. Chase Arnold of Wellsville.

A Rice victory against Baylor this fall would tie their football series at 21 victories each. Two games were ties.

In 33 meetings, Chattanooga holds only one football victory over Tennessee. Two games were ties.

Super-Road's Repairs Near Final Phases

A repair project is in its final phases on a section of the East Liverpool - Wellsville super-road and traffic may be restored within a few days — as soon as a new blacktop surface is applied by the State Highway Department.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today. Traffic has been cut to two lanes on the four-lane road for nearly its entire length since the repair began July 23. A 100-foot section of both west-bound lanes was torn out and an excavation was made to a depth of over 12 feet in an attempt to learn what had caused the base to sink from underneath the concrete paving.

City crews performed the excavation, assisted by a clamshell power shovel loaned by the Highway Department. Underneath, they found an old septic tank, a well and an upright retaining wall, but no official opinion has been expressed on the cause of the sinking road base.

Laughlin said the city crew will finish its share of the work today. Then the way will be clear for a state crew to move in and apply a new blacktop surface, he said. But the reopening will depend entirely on how rapidly the state moves in for the surfacing work, he said.

The sunken section of base was discovered last winter just west of Shadyside Ave. Since the work got under way, traffic has been reduced to two lanes in the stretch from Edwards Ave. — the former West End School — to Silvers Switch, near Wellsville.

Bankers Elect Boone

In West Virginia Unit CHARLESTON — William A. Boone of Roncovevite has been named president of the West Virginia Bankers Assn. for the coming year. Boone will succeed Pitt H. Shark of Ceredo.

The association also named Norman W. Laughlin, former secretary of the Upper Monongahela Valley Assn., to succeed Frank N. Gans as executive manager and secretary of the group. Gans, who has held the position since 1952, will retire on Thursday.

Road Job Planned

WEIRTON — Tri - State Asphalt Corp. of Wheeling has submitted the apparent low bid of $147,970 for resurfacing of 3.39 miles of the Pennsylvania Ave. section of Route 22 in Weirton Heights, the State Road Commission in Charleston said Tuesday.

Garage Fire Inflicts Loss

The garage of a Beechwood home was damaged by fire Tuesday night at 10:57, according to city firemen, who responded to three other calls yesterday.

The blaze at the home of Gene Johnston of Park Way burned a hole in the garage roof and destroyed some of the contents, firemen said. The property is owned by Charles Bosco, also of Park Way.

Firemen said the blaze started when a short developed in an extension cord hanging on the wall of the garage. It burned to some point on a shelf, which also ignited, and spread to a mattress and tent on the floor.

Firemen said there was some smoke damage inside the home. They said the house was "over fused" with 25- and 30-watt fuses in the switch box.

An extinguisher was used to quell a blaze in a car owned by Raymond Morris, 1909 Harvey Ave., Tuesday night at 10:30. The alarm was turned in by the police.

Firemen said the motor caught fire when it backfired through the carburetor, which did not have an air filter.

A short in the battery terminals was blamed for another auto fire at 354 p. m. on St. Clair Ave.

The hoses on the power steering of the car owned by Ronald Malone, 2213 St. Clair, were burned along with some wiring, firemen said.

Firemen were called to the home of Irene Moore, 335 E. 8th St., at 1:40 p. m. to carry a refrigerator from the home. The motor was being removed from the refrigerator and the line to the cooling unit broke, allowing sulphur dioxide gas to escape.

themselves with the Red Chinese, who supported them in the Korean conflict.

A State Department spokesman, Richard I. Phillips, said Tuesday the North Koreans' aggressiveness appears to be a demonstration of truculence connected with the 10th anniversary of the armistice which brought an end to big-scale fighting in Korea.

"However, I would not want to exclude the possibility of their being linked to wider developments in Asia," Phillips said.

By this he meant reports of a Red Chinese military buildup along India's frontier, which Communist Chinese troops penetrated last fall.

Phillips told newsmen there have been no reports of troop movements inside China.

The United States and South Korea are in an infinitely better military position than they were 13 years ago when the North Koreans poured across the 38th Parallel in a surprise attack.

The only American fighting men in Korea then were about 500 military advisers stationed with Korean forces. The last U.S. combat troops had been pulled out more than a year before.

The South Korean army in mid-1950 had only about 65,000 combat-ready men and was badly outgunned by the North Koreans. The South Korean air force numbered 22 planes.

Now, there are 50,000 American military men in South Korea, including the 1st Cavalry and 7th Infantry Divisions.

The South Koreans have a 500,000-man force equipped and trained by the United States.

The U.S. 8th Army in Korea lives in a constant state of readiness. Heavy weapons are trained on Communist positions.

Backing up U.S. Army and Air Force units in Korea are 40,000 men on Okinawa, strong air elements in Japan, on Okinawa, in the Philippines and on Formosa.

And the mighty 7th Fleet patrols the waters not far from Korea, one carrier task force always at the ready.

tration of the 10-year-old buffer zone dividing North and South Korea.

Tuesday U.S. troops and South Korean policemen flushed four North Korean soldiers six miles south of the armistice line.

A 7th Division infantryman and a cavalry trooper killed two of the Reds. The other two committed suicide.

One American and a South Korean policeman were killed.

40 At Hammondsville Area Family Reunion

Harry Hammond, 88, of Wellsville was the oldest person present; Danny Lee Pennell of East Canton, youngest, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvord Dallas of Los Angeles, traveled the longest distance.

Other guests for dinner and supper were from Niles, Canton, Louisville, Steubenville, Highlandtown, Salineville and Wellsville.

Chester Man Sues For Fall

The city of Chester has been named defendant in one of two civil suits filed in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Elmer Wellington of 4th St., Chester asks a $25,000 judgment against the city in connection with a fall Dec. 14, 1962, while crossing 4th St.

The plaintiff alleges he stumbled and slipped on rough mounds and ridges of slippery ice and snow and was injured in the fall. He alleges the city was negligent in that it was aware of the condition of the street and had time to make it of the ice and snow.

Wellington has retained Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester.

Ronald Stevens filed a $30,000 suit against Wade Backus of John's Place on State Route 2 south of New Cumberland. The plaintiff claims Backus negligently drove his auto against the Stevens car on Route 7 north of Steubenville May 2, 1962.

Meanwhile, the estate of the late Myron H. Campbell of Weirton has been appraised at $227,862.22 in records filed in the office of County Clerk Donald G. Stewart.

The estate of Mr. Campbell, who died Feb. 14 at 81, includes $9,250 in real estate, $2,265 in tangible personal property, and $216,862.22 in shares of corporate stock. His widow, Mrs. Louise Campbell, was named beneficiary in his will.

Big Meal Brings Excess Tissue Fat

Our modern way of slighting breakfast, going light at lunch and gorging at dinner, sets the stage for turning the excess calories at that meal into fat. This is undeniably true.

However, I want to clarify a statement made in an earlier column regarding food-fat: "On the identical Ida Jean Kain number of calories, three modest meals a day, plus protein pick-ups in-between, are more slimming than one big meal."

THE CONFUSION here is between fat and weight. Body weight and body fat are not necessarily directly related to each other. It is true that an overload taken at one big meal leads to greater fat storage. However, if the total calories are identical, your weight would be the same whether the calories are consumed at one big meal or taken in multiple small meals. Calories are the measure for the fuel value of food, and on the weight score, calories count the same at all times.

But here is what happens: On the identical number of calories, when you take an excess of fuel at one big meal, more of the ingested calories turn into body fat. This leads to a disproportionate amount of your weight being in fatty tissue.

In the animal experiments, the little white rats who ate all their rations at two big meals, stored more fat in the tissues even though they weighed the same as the nibbling animals. The excess fat storage took place on the same measured caloric intake. These animals with a greater proportion of their weight in body fat had serum cholesterol levels that were double that of the nibbling group who built lean bodies.

THERE IT IS. Total calories determine weight. It is when an excess of calories are consumed at one meal that a disproportionate amount of fat is laid down in the tissues. On the weight score, excess calories lead to overweight, regardless of when they are consumed.

Nutritionists today must stand up and be counted. We cannot stall by saying there is not sufficient proof. There is convincing evidence that a meal pattern that encourages overeating at any one time, leads to more fat storage in the tissues and to a higher serum cholesterol level.

Breakfast

Fruit juice, half glass; Soft cooked egg; Toast, 1 thin slice; Margarine or butter, ½ pat; Mr. 2 small strips bacon, crisp Canadian style—or 2nd egg; Coffee, black (non-nutritive sweetener).

Mid-Morning Pick-up: Glass of skim milk or buttermilk; Or: ¼ oz. cheese.

Luncheon

Fruit plate, 2 peach halves, melon wedges, Berries 1-3 cup; Cottage cheese, ½ cup; Bread, 1 thin slice, Mr.; 2 thin slices; Butter, ½ pat.

Late-Afternoon Pick-Up: Glass of skim milk or buttermilk; Or: 1½ oz. lean meat or chicken.

Dinner

Baked ham, lean only, Mrs. 3 oz., Mr. 4 oz.; Corn on cob, large ear; Margarine or butter, 1 pat; Broiled tomato; Tossed green salad; French dressing, 1 Tbsp.; D-Zerta pudding, with skim milk.

Total calories for the day: Mr. —1,299; Mrs. —1,134.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Should Be Made To Do Chores

"I agree with you, that a parent should require the child over five or six to do some chores about the home," said a mother to me. Later I set out to do just this with our daughter, eight. I assigned her just one regular job to begin with—to clear the table at the end of the evening meal.

She did this one evening. The next evening she ran off to play before all of us had finished eating. "The next evening, as I saw her going off again, I called her back to do the job."

She whined and argued about it, carried most of the things from the table and then disappeared. Then for a week, it was such a chore to keep after her and she was so disagreeable about the matter that I gave up."

I REPLIED: "She knew you would argue with her and that you would not do more. Go at the problem again. Keep your eyes open."

"The moment she starts off before the job is done, assign an effective penalty, such as requiring her to sit in a chair unmolested for exactly half an hour while you do the job yourself. Be so consistent that she would be sure of this penalty for each and every dereliction."

Another mother doubts that her son, nine, can be made to practice his violin lessons. She writes: "I have tried it for two weeks. On several successive days before that, and just after he began his lessons on the violin, he practiced rather faithfully for 20 minutes daily and his music teacher reported that he was learning fast and showed musical ability."

"But he soon thereafter began to lose interest. I had to remind him when it was practice time and urge him to keep at it for 20 minutes. Finally I told him he would just have to practice."

"Then the groanings and whinnings and arguments began. Often I was worn out at the end of 10 or 15 minutes."

MATTERS GOT worse and worse till I finally gave up. I figured he wouldn't learn much anyway under such conditions and might come to hate the violin for the rest of his life. I gave up.

"His teacher is distressed and may give up, too."

In such a case, this is my advice: work out with the child the practice period most convenient for you and him. Assure him you will not say a word about his practicing during this period.

Also tell him that if he does not practice faithfully, then he would not be allowed to practice that day but instead would have to sit unmolested where you could see him for exactly 40 minutes.

Don't try to do this unless you know you have the wherewithal to enforce the penalty.

My bulletin, "How to Teach Child to Help at Home" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

When you are using a slightly beaten egg as an egg wash for pastry that needs a brown glazed look, you can add from one to three teaspoons of cold water to the egg. These same proportions of egg and water may be used when you are dipping food in the mixture before coating with crumbs.

Primary Fight Seen

Rockefeller, Goldwater Hint West Virginia Try

CHARLESTON (AP) — The actions and words of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona have given rise to speculation that the two Republican presidential prospects may make West Virginia a battleground next year.

There were these developments yesterday:

—Rockefeller accepted an invitation to speak at a GOP statewide fund-raising dinner at Huntington on Sept. 21.

—Goldwater took a wait-and-see attitude toward a television station's offer to televise a debate between the Arizona senator and Rockefeller if the two run in the West Virginia presidential primary next May.

State GOP headquarters here said Rockefeller would spend most of Sept. 21 in Huntington. This would give him time to become acquainted with—and possibly solicit the support of—many state Republican leaders who will be there for the dinner.

Goldwater informed WCHS-TV of Charleston that should fate throw him into a West Virginia primary race with Rockefeller "I will certainly give every consideration to your invitation."

But, he said in a letter to WCHS-TV, "I would be disappointed as a Republican if it turned out that there were only two candidates regardless of who they are."

The television station said it had heard nothing from Rockefeller in reply to the debate invitation.

Both Rockefeller and Goldwater—identified with the liberal and conservative elements, respectively, of the Republican Party—have been invited by State Republican Chairman Howard V. Corcoran of Wheeling to run in the West Virginia primary.

Corcoran also extended similar invitations to six other Republicans. Only one — Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes — has replied, and he declined.

The Huntington dinner will be the first of three statewide fund-raising events planned by the West Virginia Republican organization between now and next year's elections. Goldwater has tentatively accepted an invitation to speak at a dinner at Clarksburg. And Republican leaders are hopeful of landing another big name—one such as Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky — for the third dinner, planned for Charleston.

All have been mentioned with varying degrees of frequency in the presidential speculation.

TV Figure Held For Grand Jury In Morals Case

WHEELING (AP) — Radio-television personality Donald Nelson Caldwell, 31, was held Tuesday for grand jury action on a charge of statutory rape involving a 14-year-old Benwood girl.

Caldwell, from Wheeling, was arrested more than a week ago after the parents of the girl filed a complaint.

The blond, blue-eyed girl spent about 45 minutes on the witness stand at the closed hearing before Magistrate Carl J. Fisher. She was the only witness in the 49-minute hearing.

Fisher said the girl broke down once during her testimony, but quickly recovered.

A group of about 30 persons stood outside the hearing room. Caldwell was returned to jail after the hearing.

The case may be presented to the May Grand Jury scheduled to reconvene Aug. 8, court officials said.

Officers who arrested Caldwell said they found pictures of nude girls in his house.

Indians Return Final Group Of Red Chinese

MADRAS, India (AP)—The last shipment of Chinese to be repatriated from India as a result of the Chinese-Indian border war last fall sailed today from Madras for Canton.

One old Chinese man refused to leave. His two daughters sailed without him.

Steel Expects Slack Period

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's steelmakers are in the situation of a man who has just eaten an unusually fine dinner and now must pay the tab.

Spring quarter profits were the fattest for any three months in years, but much of the business that produced them represented buy-ahead orders from customers who feared a strike that never came.

Now orders have slackened and steel mills are slowing to little more than half-speed while customers use swollen stockpiles.

Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., said Tuesday, "We're not looking for any major upsurge in the fourth quarter."

Beside the inventory problem, Blough blamed a "muddling along" of economy — a condition he said could be remedied by a federal tax cut.

Blough talked with newsmen after "big steel" reported second quarter earnings of $73.2 million — $1.23 a share — its highest in three years.

Haney Succeeds Powers As Link With Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. astronauts are getting a new and apparently softer voice on Sept. 1. Former newspaperman Paul Haney will replace Lt. Col. John A. Powers, who as the narrator in Mercury control coined the phrase heard around the world: "Everything is A.O.K."

Following weeks of rumors, Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, announced Tuesday night that Powers was definitely out as the center's public affairs director.

"We are aware that Shorty has been a controversial figure and that there has been controversy that he had been in the middle of and this seems like the proper time for reassignment," Gilruth said.

Powers becomes an assistant to Gilruth, while Haney, 35, becomes the center's public affairs chief. Haney, married and the father of four children, is a burly 6-footer. He is quiet and careful with his words.

Tax Group Organized For Cleveland Survey

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 523-member Citizens' Tax Committee headed by former Mayor Thomas A. Burke, has been appointed to study the city's financial status and make recommendations on future money needs and ways to provide for them.

A principal aim of the committee, which begins the study next week, is to grant pay raises to city employees. Another is to suggest possible economies in departmental operations.

700 Workers Leave Jobs Over Discharge

CLEVELAND (AP) — About 700 workers at the National Castings Co. walked off their jobs Tuesday after an employee was fired for hitting a foreman who allegedly directed a racial insult at him.

Charles Mitchell, international representative of the United Auto Workers, said an attempt will be made today by Local 350 of the UAW and the company to end the wildcat strike.

Corn Hides Prisoner In Escape At Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Corn six feet high provided cover Tuesday for an inmate of Lebanon Correctional Institution as he slipped away from a work detail. Even an airplane sent aloft in the hunt for escapee William Roark, 21, couldn't provide a view of him in the thick cornfield.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married four years. We have a 2-year-old son. The problem is tantrums—not the boy's, but his father's.

If Woodrow can't find what he is looking for he pulls everything out of the drawer and leaves it on the floor. Several months ago he broke his toe kicking the furniture. This spring he sprained his wrist punching a dent in the car because it was out of gas.

Last week when Woodrow got hold of a shirt with a loose button he tore the collar off and left the shirt in the refrigerator so I wouldn't miss it.

Woodrow left for work this morning without speaking because I washed a theater stub in his shirt pocket. I don't know how to deal with his temper. Can you suggest something?—MOLLY.

Dear Molly: Deal with him as you would any child who has tantrums. Take all sharp objects out of his hands and ignore him.

Woodrow needs professional help but if you suggested it he'd probably have another tantrum.

Babbling Secretary

Dear Ann: I read where the woman from Atlanta, who was named "Secretary of the Year," said a good secretary limits her personal calls to necessities and emergencies. She put it this way: "Remember, when you are in the office your time belongs to your employer."

I've been working here for three months. I, too, believe a secretary's time belongs to her employer but what can I do when an older woman wastes at least two hours of my day?

She babbles incessantly, gossiping and airing her family troubles, reporting in detail doings of her bridge club, droning on and on until I could scream. I don't want to tattle to the office manager yet this bore reduces my productivity about 25 per cent. What can I do?—FRUSS-TRAYED.

Dear Fruss: Have a ready phrase and rehearse it aloud so you can say it easily. Here's a sample: "Please save it for later. I'm terribly behind right now." Then continue to work.

If you repeat this five or six times (using precisely the same words) she'll get the picture and leave you alone.

Between Extremes

Dear Ann: Please tell me how to maintain a healthy balance between the possessiveness of my husband's family and the indifferent attitude of my own parents.

The possessive in-laws live out of the state. They are hurt if we don't send our children to them for one month every summer. They send the kids gifts galore and phone long distance every week just to talk to them. Frankly, they overdo it.

My parents are just the opposite. They live nearby but we don't see much of them. They never have offered to sit with the kids or even take them out for an ice cream cone.

I want our children to like both sets of grandparents the same. We hate for them to be "bought" on the one hand and ignored on the other. What do you suggest?—DOUBLE O.

Dear O: You are not going to change either set of grandparents, so don't try.

And you can forget about getting the children to like both sets of grandparents "the same." All people react to the treatment they receive and coaching from the sidelines is a waste of breath.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

100 Attend Bethel Church Services Of Homecoming

About 100 attended the annual homecoming Sunday of the Bethel Methodist Church on Route 168 near Laughlins Corners.

Church School was followed by worship with the Rev. William Reeb in charge. Lunch was served in the social room with the members of the Youth Forestry Choir from Raccoon State Park as guests.

The afternoon featured a special number by the choir, with Mrs. Edward Hopkins accompanist. The Rev. A. J. Musselman of New Galilee, a former pastor, offered prayer, followed with a hymn sing, with Harold Stewart of East Liverpool as guest pianist and song leader. Speaker for the afternoon was the Rev. E. D. Crispens, a former pastor now serving the Dunbar (Pa.) charge.

The Rev. Herbert H. Bish, a former pastor, gave the church history and presented gifts to the oldest person present, John McConnell, the youngest, Patricia Joyce Glass, and to the one traveling the farthest, Herbert N. Lane of La Puente, Calif.

The parents with the largest families, Rev. and Mrs. Crispens and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fazikas, also received gifts. The benediction was given by Rev. Reeb.

Horse Hits Hive; Bees Hold Honey Of A 'Sting Fest'

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—It all started when a horse knocked over a hive.

Bees swarmed out and stung the horse, which promptly kicked over two more hives. More bees came out fighting.

A horseman, Duane V. Ogle, was thrown to the ground and kicked in the head, but escaped serious injury.

Ely Swearingin, 63, a commercial beekeeper, came running out to help and was stung 50 times. His wife suffered more than 75 stings. Their daughter, Roberta, 18, was stung more than 100 times.

All were reported recovering in a hospital. A horse they own died of stings. Ogle's horse is recovering.

It might have been even more serious, but firemen and police came out and helped drive off the bees.

Head-On Crash Kills 2 Drivers At Delphos

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP)—Two 20-year-old motorists were killed on U.S. 30S a mile east of here in Allen County Tuesday when one car incurred a blown tire, sideswiped a semitrailer truck and slammed head-on into the other victim's auto.

Robert N. Crist of Lafayette near Lima was driving the auto that went out of control. The other youth was Alvie W. Maxwell of Lima. The truck driver was uninjured.

J. & L. Given Orders To Curb Air Pollution

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania Health Department has issued orders to the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. to draw up plans for control of air pollution at its Aliquippa works.

Plans are to be submitted within 30 days, and a schedule of controls put into effect "within a reasonable time."

The department said fly ash and smoke from the firm's stacks "have been a matter of concern to residents of Aliquippa, Ambridge and Baden for many years."

Union Spurns Offer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Rejection by United Steelworkers Local 5028 of a contract offer has sent the Dayton Steel Foundry Co. strike into its sixth week. Company officials said it will be up to a federal mediator to decide when talks with the local resume in the wake of Tuesday's vote.

Mississippi has a clean football slate against Houston.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY
Pre-Season Nerves Attack

Are the TV networks sorry they're "locked in" their fall program schedules as early as they did this year? Obviously so, because they are more jittery than a bridegroom looking for the longest route to the church. NBC seems the most nervous. It canceled the Robert Taylor series before the season got started. Some say it was because the producer (Four Star) didn't have the proper sanction from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare on whose files the series supposedly was based.

"I DON'T BELIEVE NBC is bit interested in health and welfare," suggests one veteran TV columnist. "Otherwise it would have ceased serving those sugar-laced concoctions to its audience."

Nerves are taut at CBS, too. Producer John Houseman, who was hired and a shower of adulatory press releases to turn out "Great Adventure," a series of American history dramas, found his services terminated on the venture last week.

CBS brass was reported to be getting nervous over the budgets and the quality. History can be done at cut-rate prices, and who needs quality?

To succeed Houseman, CBS has hired Bert Granet, who produced the original two-part "Untouchables" and now moves over from producing "Twilight Zone."

SOON AFTER CBS had locked in its fall schedule last March, bulletins began flashing: "The Real McCoy" suddenly gave way to Glynis Johns' new series "Careful, My Love," which later was changed to "Get Lost, Glynis," but now has been reduced simply to "Glynis."

Keith Andes, who plays Glynis' husband, was called "Jim" in the series, but a bulletin just received says he now will be known as "Keith."

It has been well reported already that CBS was putting a new series between the Skelton and Benny shows on Tuesday nights. Jack Benny didn't like being separated from Skelton. The schedule was reshuffled temporarily, but now it's back where it was with "Petitiot Junction" in between Skelton and Benny. Originally that series called "Whistle Stop."

THINGS AREN'T too calm at ABC, either. Ring Crosby was "penned in" to host an anti-olney drama series. That died. A daughter of Rose O'Grady, series about a college prof, starring Debbie Reynolds and "Channing" was in, then out. Gordon MacRae. The daughter then, back in. Tennessee of an ex-audience is forbidden. Ernie Ford is one of the names to try for a stage career.

Company Begins $30,000 Project

The Pottery Construction Co. of St. Clair Plaza, general contractor, has launched work on a new $30,000 brick building at W. 5th and Jefferson Sts. that will be occupied by Dr. Joseph J. Hoffrichter, dentist, and Dr. Charles A. Gerace, physician.

The one-story structure will front 64 feet on Jefferson St. and 40 feet on W. 5th St. The two professional men expect to occupy it by November.

DR. HOFFRICHTER has practiced for 24 years at 1184 W. 5th St. Dr. Gerace's office is at 124 W. 5th St.

The structure is being erected as a joint venture of the two. Each will have a private entrance on Jefferson St. leading to a suite of offices.

The exterior will be of face brick. Ceilings will be of acoustic tile and floors will be surfaced with vinyl asbestos tile.

Dr. Hoffrichter's suite will include operating rooms, a laboratory, a dark room, a reception room and a recovery room. Dr. Gerace's facilities will include a waiting room, an examination room, a laboratory, a consultation room and a nurse's office.

The facilities also will include a private office for each of the doctors.

THE PHYSICIAN and dentist did not reveal an estimate of the cost of the building, but the figure of $30,000 was set when Pottery Construction obtained a permit for the project from Mayor Bert R. Goodall's office.

The new medical-dental structure was the principal project that got under way in East Liverpool in July. Mayor Goodall's office issued a total of 15 permits for projects estimated to cost $44,230 overall.

Red China Raps Test Ban Treaty

TOKYO (AP)—Red China officially rejected the U.S.-British-Soviet nuclear test ban agreement today in an attack on the Soviet government indicating Peking may be near a formal break with Moscow.

A government statement distributed by the official New China news agency said the Peking regime would not adhere to the pact initiated in Moscow last week because the agreement's main purpose was to bar Red China from obtaining nuclear weapons.

The statement described the partial test ban pact as a "dirty fraud" and said it was designed "to prevent all the threatened peace-loving countries, including China, from increasing their defense capability."

There is no record of a similar public criticism by the Peking government of the government of Russia.

Cherry Almond Tarts Are Enticing Dessert

Do you think that glamorous enticing desserts are difficult to prepare? The color will be dazzling and the taste? Well, we'll leave that for you to decide!

For your next bridge group or tea party why not plan to let mix-made Cherry Almond Tarts help you through the day?

The flaky tender tart shells are made from pie crust mix and are fitted over the back of muffin cups.

Each tart is filled with a smooth creamy almond pudding that has chopped almonds added for crunchy goodness.

For the final touch, spoon cherry pie filling — from a can, of course — on the top of each tart. The color will be dazzling and the taste? Well, we'll leave that for you to decide!

Cherry Almond Tarts
2 sticks instant mixing pie crust mix
2 tsp. finely chopped toasted slivered almonds
½ tsp. almond extract
Almond Pudding (below)
1 can (1 lb. 6 oz.) cherry pie filling

Heat oven to 475 degrees (very hot). Prepare pastry for two-crust pie as directed on package — except add chopped almonds and almond extract. Divide dough into 12 to 16 equal portions; roll each in 4" rounds or 4" squares. Place pastry in tart pans or over back of muffin cups, making pleats so pastry will fit close. Prick with fork; place on baking sheet. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. When cool, remove from pans. Fill with Almond Pudding (below). When pudding is firm, spoon cherry pie filling on top of each tart.

Almond Pudding: Prepare 1 package instant vanilla pudding as directed on package — except after mixing, stir in ½ cup toasted slivered almonds.

Celler Slates Job Equality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders have asked the House Judiciary Committee to add a fair employment practices bill to the administration's civil rights package.

Tuesday, they got the assurance of Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., that he'll go along with them. The votes to do it will be harder to come by.

The beginning of the play of strategy in the House marked the approaching end of the preliminaries in the civil rights battle. In the Senate signs of progress are hard to detect.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has spent four days listening to Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., question the constitutionality of key parts of the legislation, is due back for another session today, and Ervin says he still has a long way to go.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., suggested night hearings in order to speed things up.

In the House, Celler hopes to wind up hearings this week, with the exception of testimony by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership

Cruisin' Angels Get Hand From Church

MILWAUKEE (AP) — One of Milwaukee's most active hot rod clubs meets in a church hall.

The Rev. James Groppi, assistant pastor of St. Veronica's Catholic Church, offered the rodders use of the hall and the club, in turn, has held three annual car washes on the church lot, with the proceeds going to the church building fund.

Name of the club: The Cruisin' Angels.

Junior Editors Quiz on POPCORN

QUESTION: What makes popcorn pop?

ANSWER: Popcorn is a corn variety which has small ears and small flinty seeds, containing lots of starch. Most of it is grown in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio. In South America, the Peruvian Incas discovered how it popped long before the days of Columbus. But exactly what happens during the popping is not yet thoroughly understood by scientists.

It is thought that heat builds up pressure inside due to moisture expanding; then steam forms and the force of this becomes so great that the hard shell suddenly gives way and there is a miniature explosion, sending the kernel up into the air and turning the starch content into a large ball of deliciously edible food.

Growers raise popcorn about the way field corn is grown; however, there are more plants in the hill and the rows are arranged more closely together. There is a large demand for this kind of corn from candy manufacturers. Popcorn can be also used for shipping breakable articles.

FOR YOU TO DO: Have a popcorn feast with an outside fire, and speculate on what really happens as the kernels begin to shoot. P. S. Don't forget the butter and salt!

Tracy Johnson of Mesa, Wash., wins the daily grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedias for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
